Telephone Service at 85% Normal as Strike Goes on

Telephone service operated at a fairly normal rate this week as the strike of 22,000 workers of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company continued since Monday.

In the Central Contra Costa area service remained at "about 85 per cent of the normal load," according to Howard Greenhallgh, Walnut Creek area manager.

However, Greenhalgh pointed out that many people are not placing calls or are not willing to wait the extra time that is required to place calls under the strike conditions.

AS THE STRIKE continued, with no apparent settlement in sight as The Sun went to press last night, pickets were still in evidence in front of every branch office and the main exchange in Walnut Creek.

Dial service was operating without difficulty in most areas, but considerable difficulty has been encountered by residents in areas which are served by operator service.

Martinez and MUlberry exchanges were the hardest hit with many residents being virtually out of communication for long periods of time.

Picketing in all areas has been peaceful so far, but it is estimated that the strike will be a lengthy one with no meetings scheduled as of press time.

INVOLVED IN THE strike are the Communication Workers of America, the United Brotherhood of Telephone Workers representing the accounting employees and the United Brotherhood of Telephone Workers of Northern California and Nevada, representing the commercial employees.

The strike covers Northern California from Bakersfield and Kern County in the south to the Oregon border and all of Nevada except for the Las Vegas area.

Key point in the dispute is a demand by the union for wage increases. The CWA has been asking a $3.50 a week pay raise for operators and a raise "in excess" of $4.50 for 60 per cent of the plant workers with a graduated scale for others.

Also under consideration by the telephone company are 17 other points including shorter hours for night operators, welfare and pension benefits.

UNION OFFICIALS expressed "regret" for the public inconvenience caused by the strike, but said, "We had no other choice."

Telephone company officials said "There is no reason for a strike. The offers we have made are liberal, and a peaceful settlement has been available to the union leaders for the asking. We are fully prepared to keep telephone service going."

Repair and installation service has also gone an emergency basis and will remain in this status until the strike has been settled, according to Greenhalgh.

Pregnant Women, Children to 14 OK'd for Vaccine

Dr. Malcolm Merrill, state director of public health, announced Wednesday that all California children up to the age of 14 plus all pregnant women are now eligible to receive Salk polio shots.

The priority limits were issued after Dr. Merrill had received the recommendations from the Ad Hoc Advisory Committee for Prophylaxis of Poliomyelitis.

The group also stated that Salk vaccine is "absolutely safe and (we) recommend its use by California physicians and the general public as an effective protection against polio."

THIS ACTION WILL add 2,987,650 more California children to the rolls of those eligible to receive the vaccine. Previously only children 5 to 9 and pregnant women were eligible.

"I don't believe we should be reticent with the public. I believe the time has come when we should tell them that the vaccine is good, safe and effective," said County Health Officer.

"WE MUST GET every physician in California to say that he has vaccinated his own children," commented Dr. Herbert Bauer, health officer for Yolo County.

After announcing the eligibility quota Dr. Merrill noted that the entire Federal allocation of Salk serum for California would be sufficient to give only 812,000 California children free first and second innoculations.

Commuters Discuss Mutual Problems With Mill Valley

A director of the Mill Valley Commuters' Club, Hugh Lancaster, was the principal speaker at the annual general meeting of the Contra Costa County Commuters Association Tuesday night at Acalanes High School.

Lancaster discussed a number of problems faced both by his organization and by the Contra Costa group, among them the problem of obtaining members. He stressed the importance of personal contact, as well as the use of bulletins and newspaper publicity.

ACCORDING TO Lancaster, his group uses a bulletin, "The Mill Valley Commuter," which is passed out to bus commuters.

One problem on which both groups are now working is the case of the Golden Gate Transit Lines, the subsidiary which Greyhound is seeking to set up to handle all Bay Area commute buses.

At present, the two commuter groups, together with the Boards of Supervisors of Marin and Contra Costa counties, are appealing the ruling of the Interstate Commerce Cmmission giving Greyhound the go-ahead to set up such a subsidiary.

In other business at the Commuters' general meeting, John McKirahan, head of the service committee, gave a resume of improvements in bus service inaugurated during the past year.

According to McKirahan, several of Greyhound's new "900 Series" buses are already in operation in Contra Costa County and the new 51-passenger oversize buses are expected to be put into service here within the next few months.

McKIRAHAN said that the load standards as set up by the Public Utilities Commission are now being enforced and that running times of buses have been readjusted although more improvements are still needed.

During the year, four commute buses have been added to the schedules, making a total of 32 morning and 30 evening buses on the Oakland and San Francisco runs.

Leroy Sowers, president of the Contra Costa group, announced that a letter has been written to the Board of Supervisors asking help in providing parking facilities at the Pleasant Hill intersection. Space formerly used for parking by commuters at this location is no longer available due to construction work on the interchange for the freeway.

At Monday night's meeting, seven new directors were elected. They are: Clyde L. MacDonald, Orinda; Richard F. Tiedeman, Lafayette; Sal Graziano, Walnut Creek; Bill Bradley, Walnut Creek; Jim Bailey, Walnut Creek; and Ray Smith, Concord.

In addition, President Sowers was renamed to the board of directors.

The new board will hold its first meeting October 25, at which time officers for the coming year will be elected.

Moraga Mail Service Involves Three P.O.'s

Which One Will Deposit Letters in Home Boxes?

By WALT JOHNSON

There is no doubt that in growing Moraga, door to door mail service will eventually be established. But just which post office, Moraga, Orinda or Lafayette, will do the delivering, is another question.

Approximately 30 new residents on Rheem Boulevard signed a petition for rural free delivery out of Orinda at a tract party given by Builder Harold Smith October 2. This petition is now in the Sacramento office of District Manager Robert Marshall.

Prior to that, H. T. "Doc" Crandell, Lafayette postmaster, proposed to Marsnall's office that Lafayette postal service be extended to Zander Drive and Rheem Boulevard, 1.3 miles west of Clark's Market, Moraga Center. He made the proposal after consultation with Laura Mallary, Orinda postmaster.

LAST SATURDAY, Captain Harold Parker, president of the Moraga Valley Community Club, journeyed to Sacramento along with Elinor Dickenson, Moraga postmaster, to get a petition blank to ask for rural delivery out of the Moraga Post Office. All Moraga mail must be picked up in person at present.

Signers of Captain Parker's petition now include John B. Thune, YMCA director; Lester J. Wandel, who operates the Moraga TV-Electric Company; Alfred J. Carr Jr., rancher; Frank G. Sanders, rancher; and W. U. Barnes, superintendent of Moraga Ranch.

Postmaster Elinor Dickenson said yesterday, "As a result of requests for delivery service by patrons of the Moraga Post Office, a survey is currently being conducted to determine the feasibility of establishing a rural delivery service in the proposed Moraga Postal District."

To establish the service, a route must be worked out which averages three families to the lineal mile.

UNAWARE OF Captain Parker's petition when contacted by The Sun, H. T. Crandell said, "The people involved in the area should get what they want. My proposal was not designed to start a controversy in any form, but merely to improve the mail service."

Unaware of both Captain Parker's petition and Crandell's proposal were most of the new residents on Rheem Boulevard, who signed the petition asking for service out of Orinda.

Mrs. Carroll Kelly, 316 Rheem Boulevard, said, "The main thing we all want is to have our mail delivered. To Moraga and back to pick up the mail is a four-mile drive. I don't care who delivers it, but would prefer Orinda or Moraga to Lafayette."

Mrs. F. E. Cole, 312 Rheem Boulevard, commented, "I don't care where the post office is as long as we get mail service. However, I'm not too keen about Lafayette service."

BOTH WOMEN have children attending Moraga School and are highly in favor of remaining in the Moraga School District. One reason they would prefer Orinda mail service to Lafayette, is that Orinda now delivers to within 300 feet of their tract.

Lafayette Postmaster Crandell points out that the Orinda Post Office travels further to get there; he says that it is 4.4 miles from Moraga Center to Orinda, and only 2.6 miles to Lafayette.

Lafayette now delivers mail as far as Sky High Ranch on top of Jonas Hill Road.

Parker's Moraga Valley Community Club strongly opposes any extension of Orinda or Lafayette postal service into Moraga, and asks patience on the part of residents of Rheem Valley Estates. Parker points out that Moraga is a community which is just commencing to grow "after lying dormant and almost forgotten for a hundred years."

He says population growth will make possible the building of churches, additional schools and recreational facilities, and the institution of many desirable services and businesses for the needs of the community.

Moraga Board OK's Transfer Of 19 Children

Nineteen Moraga children attending classes in the Orinda School District were granted an inter-district transfer Monday night at a meeting of the Moraga School District Board of Trustees.

Chairman John Sanders said he felt that the transfer request from Orinda should be granted for the benefit of the children concerned, who are now used to attending school in Orinda.

ALL OF THE group live in Ranchitos De Moraga, which subdivision is split by the boundary line between the districts. The transfer is good for the school year.

Captain Harold Parker, whose Moraga Valley Community Club had opposed the transfer on the grounds that Moraga should be maintained as a unit, went along with the board's decision.

Sanders said establishment of a more logical school district boundary would take time and careful planning. "The boundary should not be moved merely to solve immediate problems," he commented.

Captain Parker reported to the board that the county school survey shows Moraga's assessed valuation as $1,906,434. This, he pointed out, means a bonding capacity of $95,000 for the school district at the miximum five per cent.

"WE DON'T have to have an election every year," said Parker. "It is possible to have a bond issue approved by the voters in excess of bonding capacity."

Since it costs $150,000 to $200,000 for an eight-classroom school, Parker called upon the board to study the possibility of putting a bond issue up to the voters for "perhaps $500,000." He said application could be made for state aid to supply the additional funds needed.

His suggestion was taken under advisement by the board. Trustee Harry Rohrer was absent.

Rumor on 'Bid' By Safeway Firm To Snow Denied

Rumors that the Safeway food market firm is interested in acquiring Jack Snow's property on the west side of Orinda Highway just south of Orinda Village, and that Safeway has offered $150,000 to Snow for the 3.62-acre parcel were emphatically denied yesterday.

Denial came from both W. A. Landtbom of the real estate department of Safeway Stores, Inc., and Snow.

LANDTBOM, who is assistant to H. H. Baker, head of the Safeway real estate department, stated at his San Francisco office that he no longer handles East Bay transactions, but added:

"I believe I would have heard of it if there were anything to the rumor. I'm quite sure there's nothing to it."

He said that Baker handles East Bay transactions, but that Baker was out of town.

SNOW WAS even more emphatic in denying the rumor.

'There's absolutely nothing to it," he declared. "Safeway has never made an offer." He laughed slightly, then added: "I wish it were so."

Snow said he probably would not have any definite plans for the parcel until next spring. He explained that he wants to be certain of the details regarding the future relocation of the San Pablo Dam Road behind the Village and to the west of the Planned Neighborhood Business District.

SNOW'S PROPERTY is in the Planned Neighborhood Business District. He purchased it last year from East Bay Municipal Utility District for $14,340, plus one-third the cost of bridging the creek.

"I've put in about $36,000 in that property," Snow said.

Kids Can Become 'Fire Marshals'

Second grade and fifth grade children in the Orinda School District will be bringing home questionnaires today as part of a "junior fire marshal campaign." They will be passed out after talks by Inspector William Koch.

The Orinda Fire Department is conducting the campaign in conjunction with the schools and the Hartford Fire Insurance Company. Today marks the windup of Fire Prevention Week.

Over the weekend, kids will enlist the aid of parents in discovering fire hazards in the home, and filling out the forms.

Teachers will give each fifth grade child a badge for filling out the form. Second graders will receive red firemen's hats.

Four achievement banners will be given, one each to Glorietta, Del Rey, Sleepy Hollow and Orinda, to the class having the greatest number of junior fire marshals.

Officers Named By Miramonte Parents Club

Parents of Miramonte High School have elected the following officers for their newly formed Parents Club Monday night:

Don DeWitt, president; Mrs. F. A. Croci, vice-president; J. E. Almond, treasurer; J. W. Walling, corresponding secretary.

At its meeting at the school gym, the new club approved a constitution and by-laws and unanimously endorsed the Acalanes High School District $3,250,000 bond proposal to build classrooms to meet the crisis of rising enrollments.

The bond election will be held November 22.

Modern Dance Class Still Has Openings

There are still openings in the modern dance class, held Thursday nights under the adult education program, at Miramonte High School Thursday nights at 7:30. Teacher is Linda Hickox.

Motorcycle Crash Kills Gordon Beatty, 18, Danville

A motorcycle-auto crash killed an 18-year-old Danville boy Saturday afternoon, and one, two and three-car mishaps last week hospitalized several persons, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Dead is Gordon L. Beatty of P.O. Box 6, Danville, who was riding a motorcycle which collided head-on with a car on the Stone Valley Road, just east of Route 21.

DRIVER OF THE CAR was Howard M. Hayden, 20, of Berkeley, a student at the University of California.

Officers said that the motorcyclist was traveling on the left side of the road when he ran into the car. His body was thrown by the impact against the windshield of the car, and bounced to the side of the road.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Newell Beatty of Danville, he was taken by ambulance to the Kaiser Hospital, where he died at 8:32 p.m., about three hours later.

ADMITTED EARLIER in the week to the hospital was the Rev. Archie Wolfe, 75, of 1829 Shuery Avenue, who was in a car which collided with the rear of a pickup truck turning left from Danville Highway at Livorna Road.

Mrs. Wolfe, and two companion, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Racke of Southgate, Ky., all suffered minor injuries, and all four are still at the hospital.

Rev. Wolfe is minister for the Walnut Creek Methodist Church.

A three-car crash on Tunnel Road last week injured Mrs. Ann Backus, 49, of 1221 Dewing Lane, and Wataru Watanabe, 36, of Concord. Both were treated at the hospital.

THEIR CAR WAS STRUCK in the rear by another car driven by John Oddy, 56, of 149 Glen Court, and according to officers, the impact forced them into the path of an oncoming car driven by Mrs. Watanabe. Oddy was uninjured.

Shirlee Decker, 30, of 81 Van Ripper Lane, Orinda, was hospitalized Sunday, after her car missed a turn south of Shady Way Inn in Alamo, and crashed into a sewer pipe which was laying on the ground.

How Lovelace Sold His Car

A. F. Lovelace, 3630 Harvey Court, Lafayette, advertised his car for sale in two large Bay Area papers for a week with no results.

One ad placed with The Lafayette Sun, Walnut Creek Sun, Orinda Sun and Sun Shopping News sold the car as soon as the papers came out, according to Lovelace.

You, too, can be a successful classified advertiser. Just call The Sun, give us your ad. Our papers will do the rest. All four papers for one bargain price.

Reading Clinic Opens for 190 Orinda Pupils

A Reading clinic for 190 seventh and eighth graders in the Orinda School District began Tuesday in the Orinda school auditorium.

Dr. Philip Lambert explained that the program is built around six phases—phonics, vocabulary development, Reader's Digest skill builders, literature, tachistoscope and the science research associates program.

The literature phase is designed to stimulate interest in the "so-called modern classics," according to Lambert. Flashing phrases on a screen for split-seconds, the tachistoscope increases perception and amount of words the student is able to read at a glance.

The last phase evaluates experience gained in the other phases by an organized test. Last year, the test was used, said Lambert, and in many cases speed and comprehension were found to have improved 50 per cent.

All seventh and eighth grade teachers are involved in the reading clinic, plus the two district librarians. This facilitates small groups and closer evaluation of pupils.

Because of double sessions, the clinic is divided into two main groups. One stays 45 minutes later in the morning, and the other comes 45 minutes earlier in the afternoon, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Special buses are provided for both groups.

Procedure Set For Association Members-Drive

Machinery for the Orinda Association's annual membership drive was set in motion at a joint meeting of the association's Board of Directors and Civic Affairs Committee in Orinda School auditorium Monday night.

After thorough discussion by the group of some 22 persons, T. D. Sanford was named general chairman of the drive.

At suggestion of George Stanton, it was decided to conduct the drive, on a house-to-house basis, from November 7 to 14.

MEETINGS OF the drive committee will be held weekly for the next few weeks, Sanford said. The committee will meet next Monday at 8 p.m. at Orinda School.

Plans call for appointment by Sanford of two sub-chairmen—one for each side of the state highway.

Crews will be organized to visit homes during the membership drive. District and zone chairmen are expected to be named Monday night.

FOLLOWING THE membership drive, election of five new directors will be held.

The new directors, to be chosen for two-year terms, will replace Robert Boyle, Jean Henderson, John Ogden, Harold Rote and John Conley, whose terms expire at the end of this year.

However, Boyle, since he is this year's association president, will serve on the board next year as a director-at-large.

BOYLE REPORTED Monday night that total cost in connection with the Violich report was $1,592.54.

Civic Affairs Chairman Paul Pollaczek announced that because of last Monday night's meeting, the Civic Affairs Committee will not meet next Monday night. Ordinarily the Civic Affairs Committee meets the third Monday night of each month.

Rotarians See Prejudice Film

A film in two parts, "The Color of Man," and "Picture in Your Mind," obtained from the University of California Department of Visual Instruction, was shown to Wednesday's luncheon meeting of the Orinda Rotary Club at The Willows.

The first part showed conditions which brought about color differences in man. Part 2 showed the origins of prejudice, and why any group, tribe or nation thinks its way of life superior to that of others. It also asked the viewer to re-examine his own thinking to see if his idea of other men is realistic or distorted.

Small Jungle of Marijuana Found in Lafayette Yard

Her suspicions aroused by a landscape archtect who hinted that beautifully verdant plants at the back edge of her Lafayette Highlands lot might be marijuana, Mrs. Peter Vacco, 3370 Sweet Drive, put in a call to the Sheriff's Office Tuesday.

Out come Detective Louis Skuce and Inspector Ray Stoffels to have a look at the plants. Their verdict — marijuana.

HOW THE 45 plants, varying in height from three to seven feet, came to be there was a small mystery. Skuce said seeds were probably deposited there by natural processes, perhaps by an addict throwing away his "reefer."

He estimated the market value of the crop at $6000 or $7000. A county truck was called and the plants pulled up and taken to be burned.

Skuce said dry seeds probably fell into the soil doring the uprooting process, and some new plants will probably appear next spring. He asks that residents be on the lookout.

The plants are identifiable by the following characteristics:

LEAVES ARE long and forest green, with serrated edges, and grow in odd numbers from the stem. There may be only three or as many as 11 leaves on a stem. When dry, the leaves are the portion rolled into "reefers" by addicts.

The plant itself is an attractive, tall growth, with flowers that come in clusters. The fibrous stalk accounts for the name "Indian hemp" by which marijuana is also known.

Residents to Fight for San Ramon Plan Today

Residents of the San Ramon Valley are expected to turn out in mass this morning when the County Board of Supervisors meets at 9:30 in Martinez to hold a public hearing on the proposed San Ramon Valley General Plan.

Differences of opinion over zoning in the area have lead to controversies between residents and subdividers and even between the County Planning Commission and the supervisors.

THE BACKGROUND is this: Philip Heraty, Oakland contractor, submitted to the planners a petition which would vary from the general plan by providing for 210 quarter acre lots on the Mott Durham property on Stone Valley Road. The plan calls for one-third acre lots there.

Planners denied this, and Heraty's appeal to the supervisors is to be heard this morning after a general consideration of the overall plan.

The planners recommended denial of a proposed 242-acre Groom Moyers subdivision, along the proposed new Freitas Road south of Danville. It called for quarter acre lots instead of the one-third acre designation of the plan.

The supervisors, in a review, recommended reconsideration.

THE PLANNERS, HOWEVER, refused to budge. In the words of Commissioner Arthur Young, "We can (not) throw out months of hard work . . . and do away with the public's expression of their zoning wants in the area."

The two official bodies also disagree over rezoning of the Park Hills Estate, along Del Amigo Road to one-third acre, instead of the half acre called for in the general plan. And for much the same reasons.

The residents' side against Heraty was taken up by the Alamo Improvement Association, which met on October 6 to organize a drive for the approval of the plan as originally conceived, and denial of Heraty's petition.

Jack West, Association president, said that his group heartily disagreed with supposed remarks by the supervisors that the residents are "selfish, and excluding the valley for the rich alone."

"THIS IS MERE cheap politics designed to separate us from other like groups and further emasculate any real planning in the county," said West.

He added that failure of the plan would mean "a hectic scene of higher taxes, double sessions, inadequate fire protection, and traffic jammed roads."

That group is to be organized in a body for the meeting this morning.

The general plan for San Ramon Valley has the following goals, as stated in its text:

1. The northern section of the San Ramon Valley should retain the character of a low density transition residential-agricultural community, retaining the esthetic potential of the area.

2. The lower San Ramon Valley should remain in exclusive agricultural use, thus preserving valuable rich farm and orchard land and maintaining the livestock industry of the County.

Below Freitas Road, the easterly boundary is Dougherty Road, and the ridges of hills on the west to the Alameda County Line serve as the westerly boundary.

THE TOTAL AREA comprises two of the delimited planning areas of the County — the Alamo-Danville Area and the San Ramon Area.

PRINCIPLES OF THE PLAN:

1. Proposed residential development considers the desires of the people, the nature of the topography, and the trends of past development all in the light of maintaining a semi-rural over-all character to the area.

2. Danville should be considered as a defined community with a slightly higher density pattern toward the center of the townsite.

3. Alamo has developed as a low density, casual residential area. The trend of past development and the nature of the topography indicate that future development maintain the present character.

It's Not Peanuts . . . !

in the past week members of the Alamo Improvement Association have raised a "war chest" of $2500 with which to fight for the approval of the San Ramon Valley Master Plan if necessary.

The law firm of Tinning and De Lap has been retained to represent the association in zoning matters and will appear at the hearing.

Office District Hearing Will Be Held Thursday

Public hearing will be held before the County Board of Supervisors at 11 a.m. Thursday in Martinez on the County Planning Commission's recommendation that provision for administrative office districts be added to the county zoning ordinance.

Immediate effect of the proposal, if it is adopted, would be to clear the way for action on Pacific Intermountain Express Company's rezoning application for its 10½-acre Pine Grove property in Orinda, where PIE plans to build a $750,000 office headquarters.

The Orinda Association, through its Orinda Howeowners Committee, is conducting a drive urging the people to "keep Orinda residential" by opposing plans for any future businesses in Orinda which would not serve the direct needs of the local populace.

In a letter to Orinda residents this week, the Homeowners Committee, from its office at 6 Vashell Way, appealed for funds for the campaign. The letter is signed by William Penn Mott Jr., general chairman of the Homeowners Committee.

Orinda Enjoys Indian Summer

Indian Summer weather was interrupted during the week by one tiny rainfall—.01 of an inch on Monday. This boosted the total seasonal rainfall slightly, to .12 of an inch.

Temperatures were generally pleasant, with deciduous trees on the landscape contrasting with evergreens.

There was one solemn note sounding behind all the tranquility—leaf-raking time has arrived with a vengeance.

Here are the week's highs and lows:

New Papas and Puppies Can Help Club

What are YOU doing these days? How about the children's birthday parties or your winter vacation plans? Any new papas — or puppies — or parties in the neighborhood?

It ALL adds up to NEWS, and by being reported and written up through the Mothers Club publicity committee, it can be of monetary value to the Mothers Club. It can mean a bit of new equipment for the playgrounds or beautiful new books in the school libraries. The Sun pays the Mothers Club for all news items other than regular club reports, plus the content of "Suburbia Scribblings."

Mrs. Odie Monahan, publicity chairman, this week announced the new publicity committee for the Mothers Club.

Any of the following Orinda mothers will be happy to receive your news stories, as well as items that can be used in "Suburbia Scribblings": Mrs Charles Gibbs, 134 Sleepy Hollow Lane, CL 4-5452; Mrs. Jack Block, 101 Meadow View Road, CL 5-3352; Mrs. Joseph Zablocki, 521 Moraga Highway, DR 6-5509; Mrs. Forest Hill, 44 Valencia Drive, DR 6-8947; Mrs. Gordon Ainsworth, 73 La Cuesta, CL 4-2192; Mrs. Gerald Pixley, 29 Las Piedraw, CL 4-2623.

At a recent meeting of the Mothers Club board it was voted to use the check donated by Mrs. Monahan from "Summer Scribblings" towards the purchase of a new typewriter

Tunnel Accident Stalls Traffic

An accident in the Broadway Tunnel late Monday afternoon jammed and stalled traffic back to the Orinda Crossroads. Two University of California students were injured seriously.

Harry Summers of Berkeley is in Cowell Memorial Hospital with a fractured skull after being thrown from the car driven by Donald Geddes of Daly City. He was treated for cuts on the head and face.

Highway patrolmen said the accident occurred when the Oakland-bound car swerved to avoid striking a car that changed lanes in front of Geddes about half way through the tunnel.

One wheel of Geddes' car went into the gutter at the right side of the tunnel. As Geddes whipped his wheels the other way the car went into a skid on the wet pavement and struck the left wall. The impact tossed Summers out.

Marshall Steel Opens New Store

Offering prompt and thorough service, the new Marshall Steel dry cleaning store in Orinda, in the new building on Moraga Highway, across from Black's Market, is the firm's "Golden Anniversary" store.

Al Knight and Fred Conover, distributors for the Marshall Steel firm in Contra Costa County, point out that the new store, the 19th in the Marshall Steel group, comes during the 50th year of the company's existence. It was in 1906 that Marshall Steel Sr. opened his first store, in Berkeley.

And it was nine years ago that Knight and Conover, both Walnut Creek residents, became Contra Costa distributors for Marshall Steel, after having worked for the firm a number of years.

THE NEW STORE opened Wednesday. Grand opening celebration will be held tomorrow, with orchids to be given to the women, balloons to be given to the children, and Deputy Dave of KPIX television fame to be present in person from 11 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Deputy Dave will greet the kids and will distribute autographed pictures of himself — and, also, he'll generally entertain the youngsters.

All this month, special prices will be in effect.

Mrs. Eileen Peterson of Orinda is the clerk at the new store.

General manager of the Marshall Steel firms is Marshall Steel Jr. of Lafayette. Bill Lee of Walnut Creek is sales manager.

"THE NEW STORE features an innovation in customer convenience in the form of an automatic conveyor," Knight says.

"The attendant pushes a button and waits for your merchandise to come around on the conveyor. This speeds up service."

Knight and Conover operate Marshall Steel stores in Walnut Creek and Lafayette as well as in Orinda.

"We offer a wide variety of services," Knight states. "In addition to certified dry cleaning and complete quality laundering, Marshall Steel provides a complete household service department, for the cleaning of draperies, curtains, furniture, rugs and other items."

Guard for Newell

Hiring of a special deputy to patrol Newell Avenue, just south of Walnut Creek, where several near tragedies involving children and cars have occurred, has been proposed by Constable Clinton Jones in a letter to the district attorney's office.

The action follows consultation with a "Vigilante" committee which was recently organized by parents, to halt speeding on the narrow road running just north of the Kaiser Hospital.

Morinda Corp. Now Operating In New Quarters

Morinda Corporation, mortgage loan brokerage firm which has been in operation in Orinda for three and a half years, is now located in its new quarters at 72 Moraga Highway, Orinda.

George Dodge of Orinda is president of the corporation; Joseph Duffel is vice-president. Dodge is married, has two children and is a veteran of World War II and tht Korean fighting.

MORINDA Corporation moved to its new quarters October 4 from 1-A Northwood Drive, where it had been located for about a year and a half. The new place is in the building across from Black's Market.

In addition to arranging real estate loans, the firm makes real estate appraisals and handles first deeds of trust. Also, it does some insurance business.

OCCUPYING office space in the Morinda quarters are Attorneys Robert S. Thaman and Joseph R. Longacre Jr., both of whom are Orinda residents.

Thaman lives at 83 La Cuesta, and Longacre at 7 La Fond Lane.

Each of the two lawyers has an office in Oakland. However, they are available on appointment at their new Orinda office, and, in addition, each spends one full weekday there each week and alternates with the other on being there Saturdays.

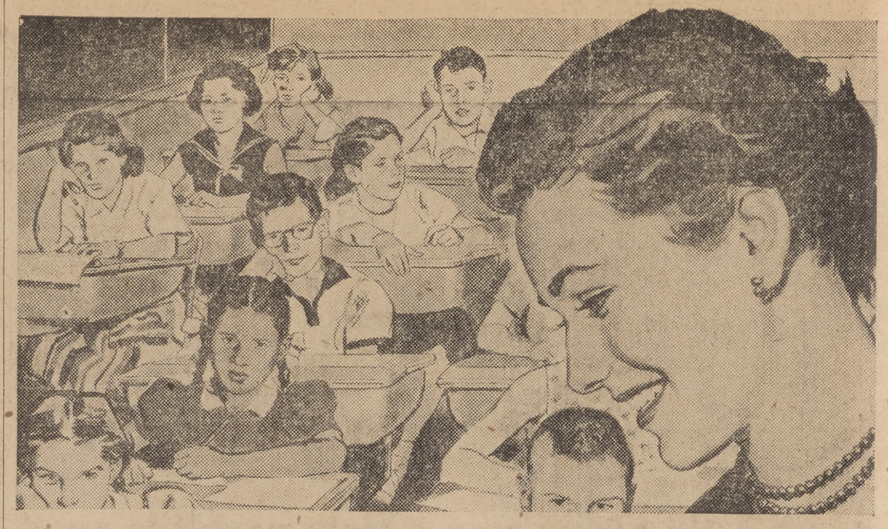

Party Welcomes Picktons Back From Thailand

After 18 months in Bangkok, Capt. and Mrs. W. H. Pickton were welcomed back to Orinda at a cocktail party and buffet supper, Saturday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Keeney Renwick on Bobolink Road.

As chief of the Navy Section of the Military Advisory Group, Capt. Pickton, with his family, which also includes Beth, Shailer and Geoffrey, spent an enjoyable year and a half in the country of golden temples. All five Picktons tell enchanting stories of their life in Thailand and long for another opportunity to visit this colorful land.

Such stories dotted the evening at the Renwicks, and all guests admired the halter sheath of ivory brocade worn by Mrs. Pickton, which had been fashioned for her in Thailand, and which she accented with silver jewelry of exquisite Siamese craftsmanship.

Your children visit a new world each week

Each Thursday, teacher turns a knob and the class enters a new world—a world many are visiting for the first time via the Standard School Broadcast.

Since 1928, this program has introduced man's musical hertiage to Western children. Now playing for its second generation, the Standard School Broadcast is probably the biggest "classroom" in history. It has an audience of nearly 1,500,000 listeners throughout the West, Alaska and Hawaii . . . students in 54,000 classrooms and adult listeners at home.

They hear a symphony orchestra, a dramatic cast, choral groups and guest artists. Standard provides Teacher's Manuals as program listening guides.

Goal of the School Broadcast is to help listeners gain an absorbing new interest in music, and—through music—a broader knowledge and understanding of the world around them. We suggest that you listen in at home to enjoy the world's best music and to gain one more link with your childrens' interests. TUNE IN every Thursday . . . check your newspapers for time and station.

H.S. Board Lauds Utah Plan For Study, Cites Work Done

Acalanes High School District trustees meeting at Acalanes High School Monday night, commended the spirit of Utah Construction Company's proposal to cooperate in an overall study of the school needs of the Moraga Valley and contiguous areas.

However, trustees called attention to the fact that the high school district and the Orinda and Lafayette Elementary District have been working with consultants from Stanford University since last May on a survey of school growth problems.

The Stanford group had previously been engaged by the Walnut Creek Elementary District.

ACALANES TRUSTEES welcomel Utahs' proposal that the Moraga area be included in the study and commented favorably on the company's statement that it is willing to pay any part of the cost.

William Freeman, president of the high school district, explained: "The Acalanes High School District in the past, on its own, through county agencies and other consultants, has continuously been studying its own growth needs."

Freeman pionted out that past enrollment predictions made by the district have "consistently been hitting the nail on the head."

"THE CURRENT Stanford study being made in cooperation with the Orinda and Lafayette Elementary Districts is a continuation of the high school district's policy of utilizing every appropriate avenue to help plan the most suitable course of action and give present and future high school students the best educational program and facilities at the most economical cost," he said.

Regarding the subject of planning and economy, Freeman observed that a recent report by the county superintendent of schools listed the Acalanes High School District as having the lowest operating costs of any high school district in the county for the past school year.

"This is the second year in three that the Accalanes District has been so noted," Freeman stated.

HIGH SCHOOL BOARD members invite representatives of community organizations and the general public to a special public meeting Tuesday, October 25, 8 p.m., in the Acalanes library for a discussion of the reasons for the board's request for a $3,250,000 bond election November 22.

In other actions trustees:

1. Approved the policy of granting leave to instructors who may want to spend a year abroad as exchange teachers.

2. Discussed a prelminary report by the Contra Costa Flood Control District on drainage problems at Miramonte in Orinda, postponing action until completion of the full report.

3. MOVED TO GO ahead with plans for a six-classroom addition to be ready at Las Lomas High, Walnut Creek, by next fall.

4. Awarded a contract to Walnut Creek Electric Company for the low bid of $1995 to relocate utility poles fronting Acalanes High School along the route of the proposed widened Pleasant Hill Road.

5. Called for bids for furnishing towels and towel service to district schools.

Da? Niet? Soviets to Tour Area!

The delegation of Russian housing officials brought to the United States by the National Association of Home Builders and the State Department to view American housing techniques and production will tour Contra Costa County, it was announced today by Garry Grover, president of the General Contractors Association of Contra Costa County.

The Russian delegation is arriving in the Bay Area tomorrow.

"The National Association of Home Builders in inviting the Russian Builders desires to further the good work started by President Eisenhower in Geneva. At the reecnt Summit Meeting of international leaders, President Eisenhower gave the whole world a new hope that differences between countries can be talked out rather than resorting to the horrors of war," Grover said.

The delegation is to tour Bay Area Building Operations Monday and has scheduled several sites in Contra Costa County on their itinerary, Grover added.

Dramateurs Deft with Saroyan Play

By THE REVIEWER

An evening of delightful fantasy is being presented tonight by the Dramateurs with their performance of William Saroyan's "The Beautiful People" at the Berkeley Little Theater, Allston Way at Grove Street, Berkeley.

The presentation will be given again tomorrow night. Curtain time each evening is 8:30.

It is not exaggerative to say that the most disappointing thing about last weekend's performances was the poor attendance. Last Saturday night the small auditorium was less than half filled—and I am informed that at the opening last Friday night the "house" was also very poor.

IT IS TO BE HOPED that tonight's and tomorrow nigh'ts performances will be better attended. Certainly, the Dramateurs deserve better support—in this production and in all their other theatrical efforts.

Saroyan's "The Beautiful People" is more difficult to produce than some of the other plays put on by the Dramateurs, because it partakes more of the element of fantasy.

Therefore Director Carl Rasmussen and the cast deserve special plaudits for taking this rather elusive piece and molding it into something that gradually warms up the audience to a mood of deep appreciation.

BUT EVEN BEFORE that mood is fully reached, one is drawn to characters portrayed on the stage—Owen Webster (played by Rod Newhall), the youth who writes one-word "novels"; Harmony Blue Blossom (Kaite Genesy), who drops in to see her mae friends of 30 years ago; Agnes Webtser (Alice Swenning), Owen's sister, who loves life, including mice; Jonah Webster (Donald Schaefer), who has been philosophically cashing pension checks made out to stranger dead for seven years; William Prim (Eddie Woltz), vice-president of a company, who futilely investigates the matter of the pension checks.

Thees and the other characters —Dan Hillboy (Hans Kaiser) and Father Hogan (Volney Plumb) and, briefly at the end of the play, Harold Webster and Steve—weave the story and the moral that love of people is all-important.

A LESS SKILLED group would not have succeeded in capturing the essence of this play.

It is to the credit of the Dramateurs that they haye tackled so difficult a drama as "The Beautiful People" and have given it breath and substance.

Saroyan would be chucklingly proud of the Dramateurs if he saw this production of his play. And so will you be!

Diablo Valley Choral Plans Christmas Party

The Diablo Valley Choral held its monthly luncheon and business meeting October 5 in Lafayette.

The group were the guests of Mr. Donn, the proprietor of La Maisonette Restaurant.

Assisting Mr. Donn were members of the luncheon committee, Mesdames D. DuBoise, P. Judson, E. J. Martin, J. C. McCoy and Ted Ramsing.

Plans were made for the Choral's traditional Christmas party to be held at the Alamo Women's Club, December 16.

Also under discussion were plans for a membership drive as it is felt that a larger membership is desirable.

The Choral, under the direction of Nico Snel, performs many songs, including classical, popular, religious and folk songs. In addition to their Christmas party, the ladies will present a concert in the spring.

THE PROGRAM to be presented at the next meeting of the board, Monday, will be a demonstration of the proper use of the telephone by Miss R. M. Holland, of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company.

This week, Dr. George Madison, coordinator of Business Education at the East Contra Costa Junior College, spoke on "Quality Selling." Breakfast chairman was Doug Knight.

High-point man for the fourth quarter was Barney Gilbert, with 720 points.

The Board by-laws and Mart rules are being republished and will be soon distributed to all offices.

Christian Science Lecturer to Talk

The application of God's healing power to problems of everyday living will be the topic of a Christian Science lecture to be given here Monday by Ralph E. Wagers of Chicago, Ill.

Mr. Wagers recently completed a tour of the Orient, during which he visited Korea at the invitation of military authorities. Also he recently lectured in South America. He will speak locally at the invitation of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Walnut Creek, 1347 Locust Street, at 8 p.m. His subject will be "Christian Science: The Operation of Divine Principle in Our Behalf." The lecture is open to the public without charge.

Prior to devoting his full time to the practice of Christian Science, Mr. Wagers was in the lumber business in Wisconsin, and was at one time chairman of the agricultural committee of the Wisconsin Retail Lumbermen's Association.

He left business in 1925 to become a Christian Science practitioner. He became an authorized teacher of Christian Science in 1940 and a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship in 1946.

Beacon Light Galvanizes Diablo Area Crusaders

Nearly 300 volunteers in the Diablo Valley area turned out this week for the start of the United Bay Area Crusade, which combines fund raising efforts of many guidance, welfare and health agencies here and in the five counties to benefit.

Earl Cappel of Lafayette, local drive chairman, said that it is too early to tell just how well begun are local efforts to raise $37,300, but advance gifts by preliminary reports appear to be at least 15 per cent higher than last year, mainly due to the strong approval of a combined drive registered by manufacturing and business firms.

THE DRIVE OFFICIALLY began Tuesday, but many solicitors unable to wait, began the rounds the day before. They have until November 7 to complete their visits to business areas, and until November 21 to finish up in the residential areas, where persons missed in the offices will be contacted.

On Monday night the official "kickoff" came via a search light signal in morse code from the Oakland City Hall plaza.

It was picked up from the Orinda Hills by Diablo Valley Boy Scouts, and relayed to Cappel in his headquarters at 2363 Mount Diablo Boulevard.

It read, "United Crusade is Your One Big Give."

With Cappel were many of his drive leaders, who passed the word along that the drive was under way, after months of careful preparations.

THE OVERALL GOAL for the five counties is $10,691,640. Money will be distributed according to the success of tht drive, the announced needs of the areas as listed in budget reports, and the "priroity rating" assigned, which in the case of Diablo Valley, is high.

Much has already been collected by advance gifts, and donatons from industrial, business and military organizations.

Departments in Diablo Valley have the following total contributions as their campaign targets: Business, $3,200; residential, $2,700; education, $8,100; public employees, $1,500; advanee gifts, $2,000; commerce and industry, $19,600.

In Walnut Creek, there will be public demonstrations put on in the shopping center each Friday evening, by members of youth organizations to receive drive funds.

TONIGHT AT 7:30 in front of Lucky's Market, the Boy Scouts under the direction of James Brown of Lafayette, will display skills and crafts learned in their organizations. The show, free to the publis, will last about an hour.

Next Friday, it will be the Camp Fire Girls, directed by J. Gilbert; October 28, the Young Men's Christian Association directed by Charles Gable, Contra Costa County organizer, and November 4, the Girl Scouts will put on a show, supervised by Mrs. Leonard Ford, regional leader.

OTHER GROUPS benefitting in this area are the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, Concord Community Chest, Concord Community Welfare Fund, Concord Ministerial Fund, Herrick Memorial Hospital Clinics, Learn-to-Swim program.

Shadeland School for Cerebral Palsied Children, United Defense Fund, White Cane Week, National Federation of the Blind, and related chapters serving the Diablo Valley area.

Chairman are Gordon Moynahan for Walnut Creek, Ken Jensen for Lafayette, George Eberhart for Orinda, Al Kaplan for Danville and Don Burke for Pleasant Hill. Area coordinators are John Price and Charles Gable, commerce and industry, and Clifford Grodin, public relations. George Conner is Crusade cabinet chairman.

SAID ALFRED WARDLEY, executive director of the East Bay area drive, "The United Crusade is dedicated to financing agencies that are interested in character building and helping preserve the family pattern.

"In each of our communities we are in desperate need of more Boy Scout, Girl Scout and Camp Fire Girl troops . . . it is necessary to provide more and more youth services for the children whose home lives are inadequate."

He quoted Warden Duffy of San Quentin as saying, "In the twenty years I have been warden at San Quentin, I have never fingerprinted an Eagle Scout."

Drive for Sponsors Started By Children's Art Center

The Orinda Children's Art Center extends an invitation to all those interested in its program of art lessons for Orinda children to become sponsors. Its drive for sponsors is now underway.

Started six years ago to provide Orinda children with free art lessons, the Center is now an established institution in our community.

It has expanded in the last few years to sponsor creative dance classes for the children as well as interesting courses for its sponsors in woodcarving, sketching, painting and Christmas decorations.

THE ORINDA Children's Art Center plans two affairs a year for its sponsors. In the past these have consisted of a lecture-luncheon at the Orinda Country Club and an exhibit-tea, showing the work of the children during the year.

This fall a tea is being planned for November in the home of Mrs. Nathan S. Dodge Jr., a charter member of the Art Center.

The sponsor's fee of $5 underwrites this project. Anyone interested in further information is asked to get in touch with Mrs. T. M. Harrer, membership chairman, CL 6-8066.

THE CHILDREN'S art classes started last Saturday and will continue for a 10-week session Saturday mornings from 9 to 11:30 in the Glorietta School all-purpose room.

The clases have been filled and there is a waiting list. Teaching two groups of 20 children each are Miss Violet Chew and Pat Chong of the California College of Arts and Crafts.

CHILDREN ENROLLED in the class include:

Marcia Ray, Marianne Wegner, Gail Kidd, Carol Mansonen, Terrell Cunningham, Cynthia Gravelle, Barbara Naismith, Kay Courtright, Jimmy Trumbly, Bonnie Johnson.

Julia Henderson, Sylvia Edwards, Kay Williams, Nancy Brailsford, Roxie Smith, Geoffrey Kingston, Terry Kohler, Suzanne Lindsay, Linda Jane Lindsay.

FOOD AND BOOKS really form a better combination for the women of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Orinda, than would seem to be indicated in this picture. But this food-versus-books photo is just one way of publicizing the St. Stephen's Choir Association food sale at Orinda Hardware Store tomorrw, starting at 9 a.m., and the series of book reviews being sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary, starting at 1 p.m. Thursday, in the church undercroft. Church Honors Rev. Hill, Who Will Go to Las Vegas

Closing three years of dedicated service to Orinda and Lafayette, the Rev. Charles M. Hill will preach his last sermons in this area Sunday morning at 9:30 and 11 o'clock at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church on Via Las Cruces in Orinda, with the rite of Holy Communion being administered at 8 a.m.

Mr. Hill will become rector of Christ Church in Las Vegas, Nev. In Las Vegas, Mr. Hill will embark on a giant building program, only one quarter of the anticipated church plant being completed, and the second quarter being let out for contractor bid at the present time.

Recognition of his accomplishments was made Wednesday at an informal potluck supper in the undercroft of St. Stephen's Church when approximately 170 members of the congregation presented gifts to both Mr. and Mrs. Hill.

ACCEPTING LEADERSHIP of St. Stephen's Church on September 14, 1952, when the congregation had neither building nor vicar, the Rev. Charles M. Hill provided the spiritual dynamism which sparked the fund raising campaign that resulted in construction of the picturesque English country church on Via Las Cruces.

His tremendous interest in young people has built the church school from 70 to 432 in his three years at St. Stephen's.

With the itnroduction of an entirely new curriculum employing audio and visual aids and special material keyed to each age group, Mr. Hill also provided a training course for all church school teachers, who meet each month for instruction by Mrs. Robert Rodenmeyer of the Diocesan Committee on Christian Education. Vacation Bible school is held each summer.

UNDER HIS GUIDANCE, membership in the St. Stephen's teen group, the Young People's Fellowship, has risen from 8 to 35, with regular Sunday evening meetings and active participation in the Oakland Convocation of the Episcopal Diocese, as well as numerous social events within the group itself.

Acolytes, whose duty is to assist the clergyman during religious services, numbered only three when Mr. Hill arrived. Today, 30 boys serve as regular acolytes and are authorized members of the national St. Vincent's Guild. Mr. Hill also gave the training for the Boy Scout God and Country award and initiated awards for acolytes based on years of service.

From four choir members who served before Mr. Hill came to Orinda, St. Stephen's Choir today includes 25 adults, and 30 youngsters comprise the Junior choir.

TWO NEW GUILDS have been added to the church organization, the St. Ann's Guild, a sewing group whose special concern are the vestments of the church, and the Seabury Couples Guild, a working group which assists the church wherever necessary.

Last year Mr. Hill administered 62 baptisms, and 70 baptisms so far in 1955. There were 92 confirmations last year, and 49 since January.

After Mr. Hill leaves St. Stephen's, the Episcopal congregation will be served by visiting clergy as in the days before he arrived, but it is hoped a permanent clergyman will soon be as signed to the mission.

The congregation of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church regretfully will say goodbye to the Rev. Charles M. Hill, but it is grateful for all he has done and for the practical working spirit based on deep religious faith which he has exemplified.

The area will also miss his wife, Margaret, and their three children, Judy, Don and Jim.

Feline's fall launches fall cleaning

WHEN OUR GRANDPA CAT, whom we afftly. call "September Song" mounted an 11-foot stretch of muslin curtains in pursuit of a moth, the whole works fell down—kat and Kaboodle! Somehow that was all we needed to launch our fall-cleaning program. Off went the muslined ruffles to the French Laundry and now here we are in the middle of a muddle of moving furniture.

WE ROLLED UP THE RUGS . . . and so did the Orinda Orioles at a Barbecue Oct. 2 at the lovely spanish-type hacienda home of the Addison THOMPSONS . . . A steakBarbecue by caterers so no wonder the Orioles were singing about their successful soiree . . . No work, all fun, And How! Around the fireplace, Bill and Kay ARENDS, Lance and Dorothy BARDEN, Elmer and Vera BERRY . . . Admiring the giant begonias around the U-shaped patio, Jim and Millie COURNEEN, Mike and Estelle HARDY . . . Bill and Carrie INDIG . . . Ken and Bea STRINGER there, too.

Under the umbrella-tables, Bill and Chris LANG, Al and Peg SCHMIDT, Don and Nan DAVIDSON . . . Dan and Lucille PEACOCK dancing in the rumpus room . . . Addie and Marion THOMPSON greeting Vern and Dena NIELSON. The swimming pool a tempting 80 degrees . . . warmer IN than OUT!

DUSTING OFF THE PIANO and the record jackets reminded us . . . Music in the background, too, at the Wallace EDWARDS Ivy Dr. abode Sat. nite for the Mills Alumnae Cocktail party from 4:30 on . . . The ranch-style home and patio prettily lighted by Hawaiian torchieres and some 80 people happily munching and milling around all for the Benefit by Mills . . . The Donovan DEWITTS, Wilson and Barbara CLINE, Ruth and Russell GILWEE, Doris and Bob CLIFFORD greeting the Stuart HENDERSONS . . . the Gordon AINSWORTHS and Peg BIGLER, whose hubby was out of town, chatting with Luther and Helen GULICK, Connie and John GOLDEEN. The Channing KILBURNS, the Charles GIBBS, Jean and Jack BARKLEY . . . Lid and Kirk MILES, the COPENHAGENS, Dick and Ann, all enjoying dancing and topical conversations in the early pre-dinner hours.

Jean and Warren DEXTER taking Alameda and Berkeley guests home to a dinner party and sandwiched in between the out-of-towners, Natalie and Bob WILLIAMS, Fred and Jean PATCHINGS, Jane and Frank HILLERY. The host, Wallace EDWARDS, we learned is brother to the Park Pool's ex-coach Bob EDWARDS . . . Bob now happily married in So. Cal. and doing a coaching-stint at a pvt. school.

Her vocal chords renew one's energy

DURING A COFFEE BREAK, we were spurred on to greater activity and our energy renewed at the sound of a voice such as one doesn't hear very often. Without any coaxing, (we liked that!) Mrs. Jack HOPE, very attractive young mother, sang excerpts from operettas, musical comedies, including "Strange Music" from "Song Of Norway" for which show she sang w/the Nat'l Company on a two-yr. tour. End of sentence, but not end of praise! Phyllis Hope, born and bred in No. Cal. studied music at COP and admits to needing no urging to sing. She and her husband, and 2 young daughters are newcomers on Barbara Rd. and we hope all of you have occasion to hear her sing in the future. Music hath charms indeed. We took up our vacuum with new zest!

POLISHING THE TABLES, we reflected . . . Among the football-fans at the Wash. State-Cal. game at Berkeley Sat . . . the Cecil CANTRILLS, Dick and Joy NEDDERSEN, Jack and Kathy CUNNINGHAM, Bev and Ed WINTHERS who brought the kids along.

In the Dramateur audience over the wknd. for Saroyan's "The Beautiful People," Ann and Paul POLLACZEK, Betty and Charles APGAR, the Richard JANSSENS, Les and Helen NIEMI, newcomers to Valley Dr. . . . Rumor has it that Saroyan might turn up at this wknd's production as he sometimes has a habit of doing. (Down, Dramateurs, Down!!) Tonite and tomorrow, Berkeley Little Theatre, 8:30 curtain time!

CORNERING THE COBWEBS, thoughts clicked away . . . Bruce WINKWORTH off for Honolulu, a 2-wk. business trip . . . Stu and Margo LOVE of Sycamore Road, home from the Islands and telling friends about the "one that got away" in the Kona waters. The one that DID was a possible 500-lb. Marlin, but the one that didn't, a 144-lb. Tuna was landed in a record 28-min . . . Virginia and Al MCCANN of Van Tassel Lane off to Mexico City and Acapulco after a southland-stay w/LA friends.

Glamorous weeds consumed in flames

THE DRY ARRANGEMENT OF glamorous weeds went its way when we lit our first fall fire in the hearth. They kept a fire going too, at the Carroll Ranch Sat. nite when the Moraga Meadows Improve. Assoc. members held their annual shindig. The Norm PRESSLEYS w/the Wes OMOS . . . Introducing newcomers around, George and Margaret KOZAC . . . The Emile PIERRES and the Thomas STANLEYS dspensing the potables.

Tink and Walter AMMON introducing the Roger PATTERSONS, new on Overhill, and the Walter EDMONDS, new on Meadow Lane. The Kelsey VAN EVERYS and the Ted SNIDERS there, too . . . many, many more.

HAVING TIED UP A TON OF OLD NEWSPAPERS, we're off off to the local firehouse. We were prompted by Mrs. Jack REISER with her reminder that your old papers around the house are a fire hazard . . . If you'll take them, tied please, to the firehouse, they'll do some GOOD by benefiting the Therapy Center through the TANAGER'S paper drive!

Around Acalanes

By KAREN HILLYARD

ANOTHER CELEB

How famous can you be? Acalanes has another celebrity trodding its ivy covered halls. Not only do we have Barbara Stark, but also George Harrison, who toured Japan last August with a U. S. swimming team.

George broke the American record for the 400 meter individual medley last July in the time of 5:23.3. He also took second place in the 200 meter butterfly and sixth place in the 200 meter backstroke.

This gained him third place in the total point scores along with an invite to perform with the U. S. swimming team touring Japan. Seems he had a slightly terrific time for himself.

PAPER SHINES

Also helping to make our school famous is our Blueprint staff. For the fourth year the Acalanes Blueprint has received an International First Place Award as a newspaper of substantial achievement. This award was made by Quill and Scroll journalism honor society, Chicago, Medill School of Journalism, Northwestern University.

Last year's staff, which made this possible, consisted of Carole Holabird, editor; Dexter Wold and Jack Gray, sports editors; Foe Foster, business and advertising manager; Marilyn Healy and Diane Hillyard, feature editors; Bonnie Nason, news editor, and Bob Long, photographer. We're sure this year's staff will do just as fine a job.

New faces department includes, among the teachers, Milo Holenda, shop instructor; Mrs. Mary Mains, English; William Kaufman, English; Kenneth Sahl, science; Mrs. Jola Jones, English and geometry, and Keith Woodell, art and English. We're glad to have ya all.

Three new foreign exchange students trying our school this year are David Carter from England, who is parking his suitcase at Smed Ambler's; Guido Grazuissi from Italy, living with Don Lockey, and Birgitta "Bibi" Borrie from Sweden, who is staying with Karen Jacobsen. Hope you enjoy your stay here, kids!

We rounded up some new students at Acalanes and among them were Kathie McCormac, from Hawaii, who by the way was born there. She thinks Acalanes is the best school she has ever been in. Natch. Gretchen Van Ummersen from Plaesant Hill and Betty Adams from Falls Church, Va., are also new.

Among those who couldn't stay away are Shailer Pickton who left Orinda 1½ years ago for (of all the fabulous places) Bangkok, Thailand, only to return again. Shailer said, "I loved it in Bangkok. Couldn't have been happier." Kelo Ann Thrailkill also couldn't stay away from the States. Kalo lived in Beirut, Lebanon, for 1½ years. She liked it in Beirut but said, "It's good to be home again." Those kids sure get around!

Well, that's it until next time.

"What's Right," the title of Mr. W. E. Wygant Jr.'s sermon Sunday at Orinda Community Church, poses a thought provoking question. Rummage Sale Will Be Step Toward New Orinda Library

What is hoped to be a big step toward a new library building in Orinda, on Community Center property at Irwin Way near Orinda Highway, will take place Thursday.

That step will be an Orinda Library Board rummage sale, to raise funds for a future library building. The rummage sale will be held at St. George's Hall on Grove Street, Oakland.

PRESENT LIBRARY quarters in the Orinda Community Church have long been considered inadequate. The Orinda Association board has promised the Orinda Library Board that a site for a library structure will be available on Community Center land, on a long-term lease arrangement.

Being planned by the Library Board, which was established by the Orinda Lions Club and the Orinda Junior Woman's Club in order to plan for a new library building, is a fund drive for some $50,000, to start in about six months.

ACCORDING TO Mrs. Clinton V. Scarich, general chairman of the rummage sale, rummage may be deposited at a box in Black's Market or in the present library.

Following are those who are accepting rummage for storage in their homes: Mrs. John Madison, 42 Van Ripper Lane; Mrs. D. E. Seaton, 48 Lost Valley Drive; Mrs. H. M. Dwight, 71 Orchard Road; Dr. L. L. Farrar, 99 El Toyonal; Mrs. Bruce Campbell, 106 Lombardy Lane.

THOSE COLLECTING for organizations are Mesdames C. M. Fish, Orinda Community Church Guild; John E. Dorn, Sleepy Hollow Book Review; Orinda Nursery School, Mrs. Arthur Sassone; Orinda Garden Club, Mrs. Ernest Spiegl.

Posters advertising the event were prepared by Mesdames Howard Hoyt, John Everett, Albert Johansson and William Kaufmann, under the direction of Mrs. Madison.

ANYONE WISHING to contribute rummage may contact the following for pickup immediately prior to the sale:

Sleepy Hollow area, Mrs. Vern Louis, CL 4-3100; Glorietta, Mrs. Robert Stewart, CL 4-4025; Mrs. Thomas Kling, Moraga area, DR 6-8972; Country Club area, Mrs. Sassone, CL 4-3340. El Toyonal area, Mrs. Scarch, CL 4-3169.

Transportation is being arranged by the Orinda Lions, under the direction of President Joe Navone.

Among the special items which may be purchased in advance of the sale are a 54-inch weaving loom, a pewter beverage set, lawn mower, antique chair and a unique English perambulator. Call CL 4-3043 if interested.

This is your community. Attend meetings, participate, vote. Read about what is happening.

Cal's Landreth Talks to School

Members and friends of the Orinda Nursery School Association met Wednesday night for their first monthly meeting of the school year. Guest speaker for the evening was Dr. Catherine Landreth, director of the University of California's nursery school at the Institute of Child Development.

Dr. Landreth, in her speech entitled "What a good nursery school can offer a child and his parents," emphasized the need for providing materials and experiences that have educational conten. Toy manufacturers, the speaker said, are not always concerned with the educational value of their products.

A cooperative nursery school provides an excellent opportunity for both mothers and children to find out how they stand. A three-year old, Dr. Landreth said becomes more secure when he sees he is much like other three-year olds. Mothers too are reassured when they observe that their child's behavior is not unique.

Nursery school president, Mrs. W. E. Estes, announced that there will be an orientation program for new mothers November 3 at 9 a.m. in the Fellowship Hall of the Community Church.

There will be no classes at nursery school Monday, "visiting day." Eact year Mrs. W. A. Patterson, director, gets together with the teachers and any mothers who wish to visit other nursery schools in the area.

Hostesses for Wednesday night's meeting were Mesdames Robert Brorsen, Paul Fanning, Forrest Hill, Rich Weyenth, Paul M. Weber, Norman Pressley and Frank Fuller.

GOP Women Will Hear Baldwin Report Thursday

Congressman John Baldwin will speak to the Orinda Republican Women's Club Thursday at 10 a.m. at the Community Church. Baldwin's topic will be "Your Congressman Reports."

"The Sixth Congressional District is justly proud of John Baldwin's record in Washington; and his 'impressions of a freshman congressman' should be of interest to all Orinda residents," Mrs. Donald Krotz, club president, said yesterday.

The election of a nominating committee will be included in the business meeting, according to Mrs. Krotz.

All members and guests are again invited to attend an informal Koffee Klatch at 9:30 a.m. Mrs. Alfred Richards will be in charge of this "get-acquainted" period preceding the business meeting.

Schroeder Draws Shell Promotion

C. W. Schroeder, 41 Van Ripper Lane, has been promoted from chemist to supervisor-research at Shell Development Company's Emeryville Research Center.

Schroeder joined Shell Development in 1941 as a junior chemist in the process development department. He was transferred to the old organic and applications department in 1943 and promoted to chemist two years later. In 1947 he went to market development, returning to organic and applications three years later.

Note on Country Living: Home Gets Hectic at Times

By HARRIET AINSWORTH

The head of an Orinda household, understanding as he almost always is, has on occasion picked just the wrong time to say to his spouse as he picks up the evening paper, "Well, and what did you do all day?"

If Joe Longacre happened to be foolish enough to make that query on a recent evening, he must have got an earful in reply.

That day Nancy Longacre spent at 7 La Fond Lane, the disposal backed up depositing evil-smelling material in the kitchen sink.

Then the washing machine collapsed, spilling soapsuds all over the room.

While Nancy was fending with these two catastrophes, Hyland Longacre, aged 3, located a big beautiful bucket of blue paint being used to adorn the new house. Plunging into it up to his armpits, he sashayed through the entire house, and a big drip he was.

ANOTHER REASON why fathers leave home, not too unhappily, for the office might be the day the John Parker family pet, Groucho, a Capuchin monkey, got loose in the kitchen at 72 La Cuesta.

The china, the rice, the coffee, the flour and even the spices did not escape the attention of this busy creature.

Helen Parker and 15-year-old daughter Judy had a three-hour cleaning job on their hands when they came home, plus considerable irreparable wreckage.

THEN THERE WAS the Kendall Day, with the story of which weary neighbors refresh themselves after a particularly trying bout with housewifery and the cherubs.

On this morning Margaret Kendall of 39 La Cuesta had seen off husband Spencer Kendall for the office.

She had fed the nourishing breakfast to Radford and Robby, aged not quite 2.

She merely went outside in her robe to get the morning paper, but she reckoned without the ingenuity of the two little boys, who promptly locked the doors.

MRS. KENDALL was afforded a magnificent view, while pounding on the doors and windows attempting to get back in, of Robby and Radford opening the icebox, removing milk, eggs and other tasties, for a little snack on the living room rug.

The boys' coordination was that of all 2-year-olds, with the result that their trails built up fast. Their mood couldn't have been better, though, and they waved merrily to mother — through the other side of the panes.

Spencer Kendall chose just this time to bring his boss by the house for a cup of coffee, a courtesy he had not paid in time immemorial, but it just happened to be convenient that day, he said.

AFTER SPENCER and his somewhat open-mouthed employer gained entry for the adults by breaking a window, after the shambles of the house interior had been hastily dealt with and after Margaret had repaired hastily to the closet for more appropriate clothing in which to receive guests, Mr. and Mrs. Kendall got to rather breathlessly enjoy the cup of coffee with the VIP.

Not exactly in quiet, though, for at that moment Robby and Radford were inspired to turn on the dryer, which they had thoughtfully filled with coke bottles. Yep, there was a load of dry clothes inside, too.

So, Mr. Orinda, the next time you feel impelled to wonder what Mrs. Orinda does with all her free time in that attractive country house your labors have bestowed on her — tread softly, it just might be One of Those Days.

R. Lowrey Wins Toastmaster Cup

Russ Lowcame the "Toastmaster of the Week" for the best speech of the evening in close competition with three other assigned speakers.

LOWREY SPOKE on "The Vacuum Duck and Geese Gun" and kept the group in laughter with his humorous and fictional approach for the elimination of the hunter's dilemma. Other speakers were Frank Curtis of Orinda, Gilbert (Bill) Williamson of $ Gary Way, Danville, and Charles Daniels of 191 Amigo Lane.

John Saeman of 452 Vernon Avenue, Danville, was the Toastmaster of the evening, and conducted the speakers session.

Rear Collision Injures Woman

She had slowed her car to turn into the market when struck from behind by another car driven by hind by another car driven by George Vogel, 60, of 3161 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette.

About Our Happy Country Folks

By EDITH BOLMAN

Took a sailor to understand urchins

One of the first things to impress a visitor in pre-war Shanghai was the way the street urchins — aged 7 to 12 — greeted tourists with a display of cartwheels, American slang and the open palm for pennies. If the pennies were not forthcoming, the resulting barrage of invectives would make a lady pale with horror, and any sailor in the U.S. Navy would know exactly what the child was talking about. Well, it seems that, on a more dignified plane, the custom is fairly universal, but one greeter in Germany got the surprise of his life from Michael Laurenson, son of Mrs. Ross Laurenson of Orinda.

Whtn Mike appeared, the small boy turned his cartwheels, made his requests in German then held out his hand. Mike, being an exchange student from the American Field Service, instead of the usual well-heeled middle aged tourist turned a few cartwheels, made a few comments in English and then held HIS hand out for coins. The urchins howled with glee.

Then there was Ronald Hartsough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hartsough in Sleepy Hollow. While in Hamburg, he wanted to have his picture taken with a German policeman. He borrowed a bike from the family he was visiting, propositioned the gentleman of the law who was most obliging and acquiescent. After a friend of Ronnie's snapped the picture, the acquiescent policeman obliged by giving him a forty-cent fine for having no tail ilght.

Virginia Vance, daughter of the Lawrence Vances of Walnut Creek, the third exchange student from this area, stayed with a French family in Paris. One day she was waiting for the subway and a French woman started a conversation, commenting on Virginia's accent and command of the language, and then she began to commiserate with her because, being an American, she must surely be perishing slowly from malnutrition, as are all Americans, because of a predisposition for "unvitaminized" frozen and canned foods and other preserved edibles upon which we rely for our main fare.

At that point, a gentleman standing nearby broke into the conversation to comment that Virginia looked to be in pretty good condition, whereupon the train appeared, and Virginia got on and looked back to see the couple still arguing in voluble French as to the state of health of Americans in general.

Basement business went to the pubs

The fourth student was Sally Anaclerio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Anaclerio of Lafayette, who visited with a farm family in Beckum, Germany. Her surprise came, when after having been with the family for awhile, she discovered that they operated a regular canning and preserving operation — home style — in the basement for local distribution to various pubs and restaurants. How different from our way of doing things and what wonderful experiences for these young people to get a glimpse of foreign living through the American Field Service.

On Saturday last, the local dancing feet really had it. Gay groups at the Orinda Country Club twirled around the dance floor doing exerything from the Maxixe to the Charleston because Dick Foy and his rythmic orchestra were so good. Seen galavanting to the tunes were; the Jack Gompertz', Stanley Holmgrens, Adrien Hines, Gray Minors, Dudley Bells, Volney Howards, Robert Rochesters and King Wilkins. The next afternoon and evening the following twosomes trundled to Claremont Country Club's two ball foursome and dinner dance: Messrs. and Mesdames Fred Mulvaney, Edgar Stewart, Stephen Jensen (won something) Stanley Holmgren, Ritchie Smith, Ralph Ong and Calvin Duncan.

And guess who slipped off in a flying machine and got herself all married? Mary Bryden of Orinda Country Club fame. As a matter of fact, Mary has been doing a number of uncustomary things recently — been flying pretty high for a girl who usually has her feet on the ground.

With goggles, helmet and a book of instructions she has been learning how to steer an airship, working for her student pilot license, so while she was at it, she married another enthusiast named Raymony Phillips — September 14 at the Little Chapel of the West in Las Vegas. On the honeymoon, they visited Mary's old stamping grounds, Apple Valley Inn, where there was a celebration with wedding cake and all. We will be sorry to lose her after the first of the year when she will move to Burbank — near an airship club — wouldn't you know.

Concepts form during schematic age

Did you know that some of our young are in the "Schematic age where they are beginning to form concepts?" Actually, we hadn't suspected anything like that was going on. In fact, the statement was made by a lady who definitely "knows where she is at" in such matters, so thinking we were off the beam, we looked up schematism in the dictionary anl found "a particular form or disposition of anything, an ORDERLY ARRANGEMENT OF PARTS." As to the latter, we would like to know just exactly at what age that begins.

"An orderly arrangement of parts" is a foreign philosophy we have not noticed symptomizing as yet — however, if the present courses given by the Orinda Children's Art Center can do it, we're for it. Interested and talented children enrolled in the Saturday morning classes are being instructed this year by two California-born and educated Chinese students of the California College of Arts and Crafts — Violet Chew and Pat Chong. They are guiding our young hopefuls in developing creative interests, and all we hope is they just don't get absent minded about that schematic business.

The new board for the Art Center is: Mrs. Spencer Archer, chmn., Mrs. Ben Olsen, treas., Mrs. James Lindsay, corr. sec., Mrs. Charles Gibbs, rec. sec., Mrs. Ted Harrer, membership. Sponsorship invitations went out this week — along with the $5.00 fee you get a few courses yourself, including one on hat trimming which might automatically put you in the same category as the other schematics.

Country Club's Calendar Dotted with Fall Dances

The fall calendar of dances is set for members and guests of the Orinda Country Club. The first one was a "Kickoff Party" Saturday night, for football enthusiasts who gathered after the California-Washington State game.

Seen dancing were Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Holmgren, Dr. and Mrs. John Gompertz, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rutherford and Mr. and Mrs. King Wilkin, all of Orinda.

Enjoying their dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ong of Lafayette, this year's dance committee chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Collins of Orinda, Mr. and Mrs. John Tiedemann of Piedmont, and Dr. and Mrs. Robert B. Murray of Berkeley, who have become new members.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Pelletier of Piedmont drove out to see their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tornlof of Lafayette, and their new granddaughter Miss Virignia Tornlof, who arrived in September.

At a large table, Mr. Robert Hill Bolman, his associates and their wives gathered for an evening of relaxation.

Thursday will be another great night on the dance floor, and every other Thursday thereafter, for that is the night Mr. Mack holds his dancing classes. Members are learning to be experts in the art of Mambo, Samba, Rhumba and Tango, not to mention the romantic Waltz and Fox Trot. Dinner precedes the lesson and also fortifies the student.

One of the biggest dances of the year is coming up, the dance when long gowns and tuxedos are the attire for the evening. The dinner-dance is the annual "President's Ball," October 22, when President Donald M. Phipps and his charming wife lead the grand march to begin the dancing.

The other football parties will be November 5, after the California-Washintgon game and Big Game, November 19, for both stadium and armchair rooters.

Sun Valley Socials

By LIBBY LANGDELL and ELAINE ANDERSON

SOCIAL TAKE BACK SEAT

Some weeks, and this is one of them, Sun Valley people literally have no time for strictly social gatherings. This week's activities are concentrated on putting over the Montefair at Montecito School tomorrow. Every family with a child in school has a hand in it, as well as many others who have caught the spirit of the thing.

BLUEBIRDS HATCHING

Trying their wings for the first time this fall is a new crop of Bluebirds, girls from the second grade. Their guardians are Mrs. James Larsen and Mrs. Frank Carter. We'll be hearing from time to time about the Bluebird activities of Lyn Larsen, Ellen Carter, Patricia Burror, Christy Cook, Patricia Crosby, Johanna Hunter, Eveleen Henry, Carol Ann Page, Sharyn Ivy and Mary Lou Terra.

BROWNIES BLOOMING

New Brownie groups are forming right and left, too, with second grade girls this year a bunch of live wires, eager and ready to get going.

One new Brownie Troop has Mrs. B. C. Winn as leader, assisted by Mrs. Bob Campbell and Mrs. Kenneth Martens. This troop includes Elizabeth Axelson, Karen Hood, Jacque Giuffre, Diane Winn, Debbie Hull, Barbara Grondona, Peggy Campbell, Judy MacMullen, Susan Yatsko, Peggy Quick, Janis Smith, Marilyn Saunders, Linda Newman, Pamela Marten and Susan Larocco.

The other brand new Brownies are Jeanette Agraz, Sandra Bacigalupi, Kathy Mixsell, Scott Moore, Joanne Ose, Suzanne Perrin, Nancy Valcke, Valerie Young, Carla Johnson and Cindy Palmer. Their leaders are Mrs. Al Valcke and Mrs. Clifford Bacigalupi. At their meeting last Wednesday the girls hiked up what they consider "their" hill, south of Newell Avenue, had lunch and a game session, and wound up their activities at the Valcke home on Newell.

BOYS BUSY, TOO

Cubs of both Sun Valley packs, 79 and 219, transported by their football fan fathers, took the trip to Berkeley last Saturday for that exciting Cal-Washington State game.

The boys, all Cal rooters, of course, had a few bad moments toward the end of the game, but their spirits brightened when the bears tied their opponents in the last quarter.

SCOUTS ADVANCE

Much activity this week among Boy Scouts in Troop 219. On Monday they joined with other troops in the area for a Court of Honor held at Acalanes. Two scouts, Rae Kavert and Orville Morrow, attained the Life Scout rank, and two became Star Scouts, Dennis Kavert and Leland Britos. There were many other advances in rank in the troop and a large proportion of the merit badges awarded went to Troop 219.

Diana Grimm, daughter of the Robert Grimms on Juanita Drive, entertained her friends October 6 with an after school party in celebration of her tenth birthday.

Playing games and enjoying the refreshments were Leslie Cook, Diane Burror, Sheryl Donaldson, Joanne Jacobsen, Shelley Wilkes, Jeannine Yeomans, Judy Morris and Diana's sister, Susan, all of Sun Valley, and Judy Morgan of Walnut Creek.

GIRL JOINS TRIO

With three boys in the family, the Alfred Rubkes on Abbey Court were somewhat surprised to find themselves with a daughter. She arrived October 5 at Peralta Hospital in Oakland, weighing in at seven pounds, thirteen and a half ounces. Her name is Robin Elizabeth, and she should have a great time growing up with scott, Christopher and Mark to guide her.

TOUCHDOWNS FOR TERRY

Saturday was the sixth birthday event for Terry Larocco, son of Sunset Loop's Michael Laroccos, and he celebrated with an outdoor football party. Terry's mother, who has a way with the cake decorator, dreamed up a cake to follow the theme, with a football on top.

120 RIDERS IN RODEO

Sun Valley's first bike rodeo took place last Saturday, sponsored jointly by the PTA, Montecito and the Sun Valley Association, with the assistance of Berkeley and Antioch Kiwanis Clubs and Troop 219 of the Boy Scouts.

All entrants recevied participation certificates, handsomely inscribed, and 26 blue ribbon awards were made to those who were tops in the field. Emphasis was placed on safety on two wheels, and the award winners demonstrated their ability to control their mounts at all times and their understanding of the safety rules.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

In a September Saturday Evening Post there was a lengthy article entitled "America's Suburbs Are The Trouble." It is a lengthy, enlightening article telling of the rapid growth of suburban districts all over America. Also of the heavy expense entailed concerned with roads, water, schools, etc.

On page 113, there appears this paragraph and I quote: "Where the money will come from to set all these things right is everybody's worry. The most concise evaluation of the situation comes from Max S. Wehrly, executive director of the Urban Land Institute, which specializes in the study of municipal problems. The suburbs, he says, are incapable of finally supporting all the services they want. Either they will have to consolidate, to merge with the cities or to bring in enough industrial plants to give them adequate tax revenues. The stopgap answer, now widely in use, is to call on the county, the state and the Federal Government for help."

Abraham Lincoln is reputed to have said "You can fool part of the people, all the time, all the people part of the time, but you can't fool all the people all the time."

I keep hoping that the good people of Orinda will start thinking before it is too late. I also regret that so much money has been spent negatively that could have been spent positively, for the library for instance, which we really do need. Also, that the group so opposed to PIE has not been willing to meet the opposing side in ways which would have greatly benefited Orinda.

I would like to see harmony and a working together for a better community. Surely men like Mr. Wehrly, who have specialized on urban problems, know more about the problem than the leaders who have not specialized.

Do not forget — United We Stand, Divided We Fall.

Juvenile Hall Needs Costumes For Halloween

Children at Juvenile Hall need help if there are to be enough costumes for all on Halloween, according to Mrs. Donald Holm, emergency needs chairman, Juvenile Hall Auxiliary.

The boys and girls range in age from 2 to 18.

Shelter children will be participating in public school Halloween parties and the other children will have activities in the hall.

Besides providing a happy Halloween, the costumes will be used throughout the year for dramatic activities.

People wishing to contribute costumes outgrown by their children including dancing costumes, may contact Mrs. Holm, MU5-0363 or Mrs. Oscar Busch, YE 4-9010.

Tough Grid Games on Tap Tonight for Preps

Unbeaten Knight Team Will Host Rams at Acalanes

The Las Lomas Knights, riding high, wide and handsome as a result of their unblemished record to date, face a ready and willing foe in the Pleasant Hill Rams tonight.

The Knights will host the game, to be played under the lights of Acalanes Memorial Field, and, as in all league games, the opening kickoff is slated for 8 p.m. sharp.

THE RAMS, who have yet to taste victory in varsity play, are a far stronger team than their record indicates.

Last Friday night, for example, they gave the highly touted Antioch Panthers a mighty scare before going down in the closing minutes.

The Rams, on the light side and not too deep in reserves, have given every club they have faced a go of it all the way.

RAM COACH Hall Briggs was optimistic over the team's showing last week and feels ready for tonight's game, which in many ways is the "Big Little Game," due to the closeness of the two schools plus the fact that they are the two newest clubs in varsity competition.

The Knights have been the surprise team with their steady and aggressive play.

In last week's game with the Acalanes Dons they came up with their best play to date when it counted the most, and they are considered by many now as crown contenders.

COACH George DeKlotz reports that his fullback, Don Ogden, is on the doubtful list, injury-wise.

Don Schuppert returns to the fold as a halfback after being out for two weeks.

John Westlund, another halfback, has had a siege of flu and is a doubtful starter.

Duane Brown, the hard-hitting sophomore fullback for the Knights, and the Rams' senior fullback ace, Jim McMillin, should put on a great offensive duel, and it could well be that the winner will bring victory to his team.

Liberty Holds Rams Scoreless To Tune of 21-0

The Pleasant Hill Rams met another toughie on September 30 when they tackled the Liberty Lions of Brentwood at Brentwood.

The Lions, one of the county's best, presented a fast and tricky offense that enabled them to roll up three touchdowns, while their defense held the Pleasant Hill eleven scoreless.

LIBERTY scored in the first quarter when Quarterback Jack Englund sneaked over from two yards out.

In the second quarter, Fullback Ralph Mendoza bulled his way over from the one.

WHEN HALFBACK Herman Urenda booted his second-in-a-row conversion kick over the crossbar it was 14-0 at the half.

T.D. number three came in the final quarter, with Halfback Tom Shelton going over from the three-yard line, and it was 21-0 when Urenda booted his third try of the night.

Rams Shine Even Though Beaten By Antioch 19-12

The Pleasant Hill Rams lost their league opener to Antioch's Panthers last Friday night at Antioch, but in losing they won a host of friends and the plaudits of fans, coaches and players for their fine showing, which came close to being the season's upset as they lost out 19-12 in a wild and woolly contest.

Antioch, rated the top pennant contender, had to pull out all stops and rub their rabbit's foot three times in order to accomplish the win, which was only decided in the closing minutes.

OUTWEIGHED and outmanned but not outfought, the Rams scored first when two pass plays put them on the two-yard line, and with 10 seconds on the clock, Fullback Jim McMillin crashed over. The conversion missed, and it was 6-0, but not for long, as Antioch took the kickoff back and out of bounds on the Pleasant Hill 35.

With seconds left, Antioch's quarterback, Randy Autentico, hit Halfback Bill Hall with a TD pass, and when the conversion try missed, it was 6-6.

IN THE THIRD period the play was hot and heavy, but neither team scored.

In the action-filled fourth quarter, it was a different story, however.

Antioch's tackle, Leo Treat, blocked a Ram punt, with Ray Harrington falling on the ball on the one to give Antioch possession.

Autentico took it over, and it was 12-6 when the conversion again missed.

THE RAMS, far from through, roared back, to go 60 yards in a march that wound up with McMillin scoring from three yards out, and it was 12-12 when the conversion play missed.

With three and a half minutes left, Antioch went 40 yards to score, with Hall cracking tackle for the final six yards.

Autentico passed to Lanny Brown for the conversion.

That ended the scoring, as time ran out, with fans and players exhausted from the hard play that was a thriller down to the wire.

Vikings to Try For Two in Row

East Contra Costa Junior College hit the victory trail after three unsuccessful tries by defeating SF State's JV's 31-13 Saturday night.

The Vikings will be out to make it two in a row tomorrow when they host the San Jose State freshmen on the Mt. Diablo High School field at 8 p.m.

Coach Hal Buffa was satisfied with the victory but said that mistakes didn't show in the final score. "If we had been playing a league opponent, the outcome could have been entirely different," commented Buffa.

County's Prep Grid Play Closest in Recent Years

By ERWIN MATTSON

THE CONTRA COSTA PREP race, as predicted, has developed into the closest and best in recent years, and if things continue the way they started out in last Friday night's first round of play, fans will jam the stadiums the rest of the season.

The caliber of play is not up to that of the pros and collegians, as far as techniques are concerned — but for interesting play, in many ways the prep games have far surpassed the pro and collegiate ball in the local area, which, to put it mildly, has been well below par.

I hear by the grapevine that Pleasant Hill is due to get lights for its football field next year. The lights will be purchased by the high school district and are to be paid for by funds out of the gate receipts. In fact, all funds from athletic events in the Diablo High School District go into a common fund, with all schools sharing.

Somehow, I like the plan better where each student body handles and disperses the funds. Such a plan is used in the Acalanes District, and things work out well that way, with each school doing its own promoting.

The Acalanes lights were a school project sponsored by the Lions Clubs of Lafayette, Orinda and Walnut Creek. The clubs sold script which was redeemed from gate receipts.

Some at the time felt the projcet was too big to handle ($15,000) but. to the surprise of many, it was paid off in a relatively short time — four years, if I remember correctly.

It would bo good to see such a project undertaken for Las Lomas, which lacks lighting facilities and is forced to day ball or using the Acalanes Field when the Dons are away. Las Lomas is handicapped as far as gate receipts are concerned, and it creates problems when a field has to be in constant use by two clubs.

It would be a fine combined project for the service clubs to undertake. It could be handled much as the Acalanes financing was done, with no great burden falling on anyone.

LAS LOMAS has certainly come of age — at the current writing it is the only undefeated club in the section of the Diablo Valley League representing Antioch, Acalanes, Diablo, Pittsburg, Las Lomas and Pleasant Hill.

Incidentally, the only undefeated team in the other section of the league is the San Ramon Wolves, who have compiled a fine record to date. They also have no lights, but that will probably not be the case next year, as a fund-raising campaign has been going on for some time.

The advantages of lights are many — the least of which is increased gate receipts, which go a long way toward maintaining all sports.

But far more important is that it is much easier on players. They get far less tired, and it gives an opportunity for the community to see the games.

Certain problems arise with crowds, but most feel that the values far outweigh the evils.

Schools have to learn to get along with one another, on and off the field. A well-administered game can bring schools close together.

Rivalries are developed but they are natural and good when guided along the right lines.

It would also be good to see Orinda develop facilities at their new high school, Miramonte.

The Miramonte School was recently officially admitted to the league, and while at present it has only a frosh class, that will all change in a relatively short time.

Incidentally, Miramonte's football field is reported to be doing nicely, with a newly planted turf getting its first mowing last week.

By next fall the turf, like the players, will be ready and willing.

County-Wide Poster Contest Aimed at Schools

All children in the kindergarten through twelfth grades of the public and private schools in Contra Costa County are eligible to enter the fourth annual Dental Health Poster Contest, it was announced this week by Dr. W. A. Elsasser, president of the Contra Costa Dental Society.

Every participating classroom this year is eligible for five certificates of achievement, first and second prizes, and three honorable mentions. At the senior high level each grade will be eligible for a first and second prize and three honorable mentions. In addition, there will be the county-wide finals, with five awards in each grade and a $25 U. S. Savings Bond for the grand prize winner.

The posters of each of the four prize winners in the senior high school finals of Alameda and Contra Costa Counties will compete in a final runoff for two $25 U. S. Savings Bonds.

Class or grade-winning posters may be forwarded to the County Health Department Dental Division at Martinez, until February 17.

The contest is sponsored by the Contra Costa Dental Society, the County School Department, and the County Health Department.

Knights Defeat Dons in Opener In 7-6 Thriller

In a hard-fought game last Friday night at Acalanes Memorial Field, the Las Lomas Knights edged the Acalanes Dons 7-6.

It was the fourth straight win for the Knights, who haa racked up three pracice wins before copping last Friday night's league opener.

The game, played before a near-capacity crowd, found the two clubs battling it out to a scoreless tie for most of the first half, until the Dons ended up in possession of the ball on their own 30 with two minutes on the clock.

IN TWO PLAYS the Dons were to their own 40, and at this point Quarterback Richard Markstein let go with a pass to End Pete Villa, who made a spectacular catch and then rambled to the goal line, evading would-be tacklers on the way. The play covered 60 yards and was made with 15 seconds on the clock.

The conversion try misfired, and it ended up at the half 6-0, as Las Lomas didn't have time for action before the gun sounded.

In the second half the Dons got a break when Las Lomas fumbled the kickoff. The Dons drove from the 40 to the Knights' 18, only to receive an illegal use of hands penalty, which set them back 15 yards, and they lost the ball on downs.

LAS LOMAS came back fired up and drove into Don territory to the 40, only to be set back by a 15-yard holding penalty.

With first down and 18, Quarterback Jim Symington fired a pass to Right End Edminister good for 15 yards and then rolled out and passed to Left End Joe Silva, to bring the ball to the Dons' 20.

In four plays the ball was on the four, and Fullback Duane Brown, the sophomore flash, rammed it over, going off tackle for the score.

BROWN REALLY took the hero's mantle when he booted the conversion, splitting the uprights. The score came in the third quarter.

The game from then on found the Knights maintaining ball control. Brown carried the ball 27 times in the game for 110 yards.

The Knights drove to the Dons' 15, only to lose the ball on a fumble.

Late in the fourth quarter the Dons were placed in the hole when Silva kicked out on the eight with four minutes left to go.

GARY AREL went over tackle to the 15 and Villa took a pass that brought the ball to midfield.

Two plays later Villa missed a long pass just short of the goal line, and with it went all chances for the ball game, as time ran out with the Knights out in front 7-6.

The Knights' line was at its best as it outcharged the Dons on offense and defense, to spell the difference.

Duane Brown's running, plus Center Webb Johnson's all-around play and some fine punting by End Silva, spelled victory for the Knights.

Rich Markstein's passing and Villa's receiving were the highlights for the Dons, along with the running of Halfbacks Arel and Stuart Busby.

In the Dons' line the play of Guard Jim Dinkel on defense was outstanding.

Dons Will Travel To Diablo Field For Tilt Tonight

The Acalanes Dons have been edged in their last two outings—8-6 by Alhambra and 7-6 by the surprising Las Lomas Knights — and, the way the record shows, they will have their hands full trying for victory tonight when they face a big Diablo club that, while inconsistent in early season, appears to have molded together as enough of a club to warrant consideration as a crown contener.

The game will be played at the Mt. Diablo field, with an 8 p.m. kickoff.

The Dons have been a club that at times in games appears capable of taking the best, only to fall apart at the critical moment.

THE DONS displayed some fine aerial work against Las Lomas last week but failed to generate a consistent ground attack to go with it.

Some changes have been made in the Dons' lineup, with Stuart Busby moving over to fullback from right half.

John Cadwell, a former fullback, has been moved into tackle, where early week workouts showed him to good advantage, particularly with his aggressive play on defense.

HE FIGURES to start with the defensive unit and may prove to be the shot in the arm that the Dons' defense needs.

Mike Barrett and Harold Ecklund will share duties at right half, as will Butch De Villers and Gary Arel at left half.

THE BIG QUESTION is: Can the Dons halt the hefty Diablo line that held Pittsburg to a 6-6 tie last Friday night?

The answer to that will only come at tonight's game.

Taxpayers Plan Annual Dinner

The nineteenth annual dinner of the Contra Costa County Taxpayers' Association will be held October 24 at the Orinda Willows, it was announced.

Christian Science

Man's responsibility to make religion practical in his actvities throughout the week will be emphasized in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Doctrine of Atonement" at services Sunday in Churches of Christ, Scientist, at 22 Orinda Highway, Orinda, and 1347 Locust Street, Walnut Creek.

Scriptural selections include Paul's advice to the Hebrews (4:14): "Seeing then that we have a great high priest, that is passed into the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold fast our profession."

Also painting up the need for emulating the master Christian is the following passage to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (37:22-25): "It is possible, —yea, it is the duty and privilege of every child, man, and woman, —to follow in some degree the example of the Master by the demonstration of Truth and Life, of health and holiness."

Cerebral Palsy Group Will Give Scouts Funds

United Cerebral Palsy of East Contra Costa County will disburse funds semi-annually to furnish equipment and other activity needs for the cerebral palsied members of Handicapped Boy Scout Troop 229 of Walnut Creek, John B. Clausen, president, announced.

Waterfowl Rules OK'd--Sea Brant Opener Changed

A shift in the opening of black sea brant season to December 10, the same day as the opening of the second half of this year's regular waterfowl season, was the only change voted by the State Fish and Game Commission in officially adopting the 1955-56 waterfowl regulations set for California by the U. S. Department of the Interior.

Brant season ends Febrary 10. Bag and possession limit is three birds.

The waterfowl regulations as adopted by the commission set a 72-day split season, October 15 to November 18 and December 10 to January 15. Bag and possession limit on ducks will be seven birds, plus three additional sprig or widgeon authorized as an agricultural depredation control measure.

Hunters wishing advance reservations on any of the 13 public waterfowl shooting areas operated by the Department of Fish and Game must have their applications in the Sacramento headquarters two weeks in advance of the selected shooting date, the department reminded.

Application forms giving all details of applications are available at Fish and Game license agents.

Crippled Child Society Elects 3 Local Women

The Contra Costa County Crippled Children's Society elected a Walnut Creek woman and two Lafayette women as directors at an annual meeting recently held in Martinez.

They are Mrs. Alma Goodice of Walnut Creek, Mrs. R. H. Condie and Mrs. George Deubner.

Mrs. Taylor, Oakley, Case Committee chairman, announced that the Society had expended $8000 in 1954-55 in supplying medication, hospitalization, braces, corrective shoes, dental care, doctor's fees, camperships and transportation for cerebral palsied children to and from the Cameron and Shadelands Schools.

Plans were discussed for the annual membership drive. This drive is the only method used in raising money to meet the needs of the crippled and handicapped children, not cared for by any other county agency.

Periodontists Convene in SF

Dr. Craig G. Woolman of Pleasant Hill and Dr. Ernest Baker, until recently a resident of Lafayette, are among the dentists attending the 39th annual meeting of the American Academy of Periodontology at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel in San Francisco.

The meeting opened yesterday and continues through tomorrow.

Periodontists from various countries are at the sessions, which precede the American Dental Association convention to be held in San Francisco next week.

Dr. Baker, who lived in Lafayette for 15 years before moving to San Francisco several weeks ago, points out that the more familiar name for periodontal disease is pyorrhea — a term which is going out of usage because it sounds like one disease when actually it is several.

Dr. Woolman states that 90 per cent of all teeth lost by adults are lost through periodonal disease, and not through decay.

Periodontists treat the gums and bone surrounding the teeth.

Both Dr. Woolman and Dr. Baker are members of the California Academy of Periodontology.

Utah Company Suggsts Survey On School Needs

"Utah Construction Company believes it is essential and basic that at as early a date possble a complete and factual survey by competent authorities be made of the present and future school needs in the Moraga Valley and contiguous areas," Vice-President Frank M. Keller of the company stated this week.

"Utah Construction Company," he added, "will cooperate in every way possible in such a survey; and if necessary, contribute to the cost of the survey where the school districts are unable financially to participate fully in the project."

"THE ACALANES Union High School District and Utah Construction Company," Keller continued, "have agreed to cooperate in an impartial survey of the present and future needs of the Acalanes Union High School District.

"The high school district has retained a group of Stanford University experts; Utah has retained Harland Bartholomew and Associates of St. Louis, one of the outstanding engineering and planning organizations in the nation.

"THESE SURVEYS will determine the present needs for school development and anticipate, insofar as it is possible, the future needs of the district, particularly as to student load, selection of school sites, population trends, transportation factors, tax structure and income, bonding capacity and other essentials.

"In these surveys a great mass of data will be developed which will effect not only the Acalanes High School District, but school districts included in or contiguous to Acalanes, such as Orinda, Canyon, Moraga and many other distrcts.

"IT IS OBVIOUS that if the districts will join in a complete and overall survey, the cost factor will be materially reduced, the basic problems facing the districts will be analyzed and a sound factual foundation will be laid for future developement.

"The school authorities, the parent-eacher organizations, parents, taxpayers and others interested would have available expert opinion and detailed information for their present and future guidance.

"The matter has been discussed in a preliminary way with Bryan O. Wilson, county superintendent of schools, who is interested in the matter and is now working with school authorities on the overall plan.

"The cost factor may well be a problem in certain districts, but Utah Construction Company. I reiterate, will arrange to contribute generously where help is essential."

Milton Boyd of San Mateo was elected secretary, Fay Langdon of Los Angeles, executive secretary, and Ray Bliss of Concord, treasurer.

LOW BRAKE PEDAL

If you have to push your foot nearly all the way to the floor before your car's brakes take hold, it may be due to one of two reasons. Your brakes may need adjusting to compensate for lining wear, or you may be low on brake fluid. Whatever the cause, have it corrected immediately.

Fifty-four Air Force Reserve officers in Contra Costa County are to be promoted under the new Reserve Officers Promotion Act passed at the last session of Congress, it was announced this week.

Library Is No. 1; It Needs Finances

By common agreement, a new library building has been designated as the first definite project for the Orinda Community Center.

So widely recognized is the need for a new library building, to replace the present inadequate quarters in the Orinda Community Church, that the Orinda Association board has promised that land for a library structure will definitely be reserved on Community Center land, in the vicinity of Irwin Way and Orinda Highway.

It is, we believe, in the light of that situation that the problem of what to do with the $6000 profit from last May's Orinda Fiesta should be considered. Many people feel that the funds should go toward a community swimming pool they would like to see at Miramonte High School. Others want the money to go toward a new library building.

However, most community interest seems to be in support of the library goal, as evidenced by the activity of the Orinda Junior Woman's Club and the Orinda Lions Club in forming and maintaining the Orinda Library Board, a group which is attracting increasing backing from various other organizations.

In view of this interest and of the No. 1 priority for a library building, Orinda should get behind the library project 100 per cent. And it would seem obvious that, with this impetus as a decisive factor, the Orinda Fiesta board should consider giving all, or at least the largest portion, of the $6000 to the library fund.

The Orinda Library Board is planning to conduct a drive for about $50,000 several months from now, so that a new library building can be erected. But such a fund drive may not raise all the money needed.

Orinda's many splendid organizations, large and small, would do well to follow the example of the Lions Club and the Junior Woman's Club by actively working for the realization of a new library structure.

The rummage sale to be conducted by the Orinda Library Board next Thursday, in Oakland, is a good example of the sort of activity which helps.

The local organizations and people should start right now to give the library project a "head start" by raising money the easy way, through such events as bridge parties, teas and rummage sales.

By so doing, they will bring nearer the day when a new library building can be built on Orinda Community Center land.

Incorporation?...

We realize we're repeating ourselves — but the importance of the subject warrants repetition.

The subject is Orinda's incorporation study. Orinda has had some excellent reports by the Orinda Association's incorporation study committee, headed by Frank Cayting. There have been some stimulating meetings — including a "town meeting" — at which the Coro Foundation's incorporation survey was discussed. All that was over a year ago.

At that time we said, in effect — and we now repeat: Orindans should guide Orinda's destinies. The only way in which that can be done is through incorporation. We believe that incorporation of Orinda is inevitable, and that the Orinda Association and all Orindans should really concentrate on studying the pros and cons of the matter NOW — not five or 10 years from now, when Orinda's development will have created different conditions and when it may be much more difficult to act for incorporation.

What They Say

Men in Helmets Occupy Thoughts

These are the days when thoughts turn to some of the most weighty issues of our times.

How close will the 49ers come to that National Football League championship? What will UCLA and USC do to California's Bears? Will the Big Ten win another Rose Bowl?

MAYBE THERE are a few people around whose thoughts never turn to those sturdy-limbed wearers of leather pads and plastic helmets.

Our researchers determined to find out, and shot this question at a group of people:

"What kind of football fan are you — sideline fan, TV-armchair fan or sports page fan, and why? Or if not, how come?"

Mrs. Jack R. Wallace, 150 Lombardy Lane, Orinda, replied, "I'm not any kind of a fan. I used to be a proof reader on a newspaper and became awfully tired of reading about how football stars looked, and just how they turned around, etc."

"I'M A STADIUM fan," said Marland H. Chandler, 3565 East View Drive, Lafayette. "Since I'm a UC alumnus, Class of 1940, we usually take in all the games in Berekley on a season ticket."

Mrs. Hugh Pinkley, 31 Adobe Lane, Orinda, said she was definitely a fan of the stadium variety. "I guess it's because my son, Norm, is a tackle for Acalanes."

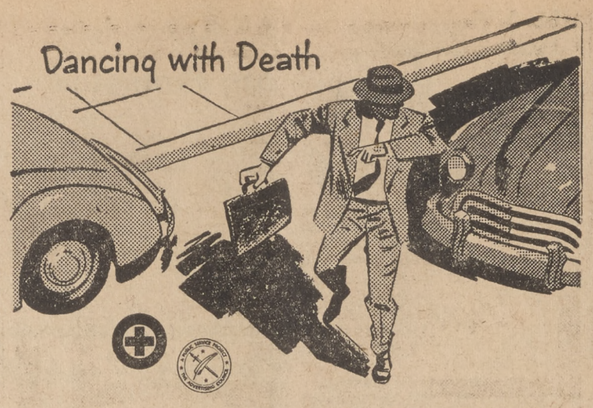

"Football is just a jumble of players; I'll take baseball every time," said Mrs. Sigurd W. Lassen, 3652 Crescent Drive, Lafayette. "There's just more to the game of baseball."

STANLEY YOUNGBLOOD of 1955 Alvina Drive, Pleasant Hill, says that football is not his "first love" though as a junior high school student in Tulsa, Okla., he once made a spectacular catch, and the coach tried hard to sign him up. Baseball is his dish, and Brooklyn his team, making it a happy year for him.

A former Albany High right guard, William Hill of 1311 Juanita Drive, Walnut Creek, still follows the gridiron developments on television, at the games, and in the sports page, but it's a tussle between that and hunting and fishing, which has suffered in recent years. Television has been great for the pigskin game, as far as the spectators are concerned, he feels, and he hates to miss a UC game. Sons Bill Hill and Doyle, both 13, feel the same.

AS A FORMER STUDENT at St. Mary's College, Moraga, Martin O'Neill of 212 Marshal Drive, Walnut Creek, admires ex-fellow student Red Strader, coach of the 49'ers, and hopes that the team can stage a comeback after two losses in two games this fall. The 49'er coach was one of the "true all-Americans," in O'Neill's opinion.

Television is a real boon to spectators of football and other sports, because it's a "real expedition" to go see a game these days, declares John Guyton of 317 Strand Avenue, Pleasant Hill.

New Therapy Center Site Leveled; 1st Phase Done

The first phase in the construction of the new Mt. Diablo Therapy Center has been completed after three days of dirt moving and ground leveling of the Golf Links Road property in Concord.

With more than 10 pieces of donated equipment operated by workmen from local construction firms, the ground moving operation was viewed by board members, auxiliary members, staff and many of the loyal building fund drive workers who have raised more than $75,000 toward the estimated $115,000 structure.

THE COMPLETION of the new building will be made possible by interested citizens in the surrounding communities in seeing the program and facilities of the Center expanded to provide a needed service in aiding the physically handicapped.

On hand to finish the ground leveling job Saturday was a committee headed by Mrs. H. R. Parker of Moraga and Mrs. J. R. Lar Rieu of Walnut Creek who served a chuck wagon style hamburger and bean feed to the workmen.

JACK MARCHANT of Lafayette has served as chairman of the Center's building committee for the past two years and organized the crew of equipment and workmen for the three-day operation. Assisting Marchant were Wayne Morris, Orinda Excavating and Paving, director of operations; Leo Schell of Lafayette, site engineer, and Jim Simonds of Lafayette, coordinator.

Donors of the tractors, carryalls, water wagons and other equipment were Gallagher and Burk, Walnut Creek; Orinda Excavating and Paving, Concord; Martin Brothers, Inc., Concord; Tony Lemos, Lafayette; Jim Martino, Lafayette; Don Norman, Lafayette; Bert Bertagnolli, Lafayette; Turrin and Sons, Concord, and Manuel Lemos of Lafayette.

....WORKMEN WHO operated the equipment included Jim Adkin, Gallagher and Burk; Prentice Nunns, Martin Brothers; Bob Riggelsford, Ransome Company; George Machado, Tony Lemos Company; Norman Yassany, Don Starke, Tex Scarboroguh, Pat Jones, Orinda Excavating and Paving; B. H. Smith, Stan Bean Construction Cmpany, and Jim Abilla and James Barrett of Turrin and Sons.

The new building plans which have just been completed by architect Harry Nakahara will be submitted by Gordon R. Cumming, chief of the State Bureau of Hospitals, for endorsement by that agency.

The plans will then be let out for bid by contractors.

Federalist Unit Hears Chambliss

In the first of a series of fall meetings scheduled by the Acalanes Chapter of the United World Federalists, Allan Chambliss of San Anselmo, state president of the organization, spoke September 29 on "Is Permanent Peace Possible?" The meeting was held at the Paul Ammen home in Orinda.

"Current emphasis on disarmament is encouraging," Chambliss said.

"However," he added, "permanent peace requires something more than inspection. It requires a United Nations which can effectively enforce disarmament. It requires a United Nations through which international disputes can be peacefully settled. In short, it requires enforceable world law."

Frank Silva of Orinda was elected chairman of the local UWF chapter. Other officers include Mrs. Warren Yager, secretary; Mrs. Robert Milliken, treasurer; Mrs. R. T. Hughes, education chairman; Mrs. Frederick Johnson, membership chairman; Ray Taber, public affairs chairman; Paul Ammen, finance chairman; Mrs. Harold Powell, publicity chairman, and Mrs. Ray Devin, organization liaison chairman.

Plans for a chapter program for the coming year were discussed.

Among those present were Messrs. and Mesdames Frank Silva, R. T. Hughes, Robert Spott, Harold Bruce, Charles Hanks, Ray Taber, Ernest Jones, all of Orinda; Mesdames W. L. Yager, John Glascock, Robert Milliken and Forrest Hill of Orinda and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Devin of Moraga.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

On October 3, residents of Pinehollow Road, after having requested and been placed on the agenda relative to public nuisances, private nuisances as well as the endangerment of public safety and welfare, were denied the opportunity to present their complaint and evidence to their elected representatives, the Board of Supervisors.

Before tape recording and motion picture evidence could be presented, Mr. George Gordon, a lawyer with the firm of Carlson, Collins, Gordon and Bold, sometime legal representative for the Henry J. Kaiser Co., interjected himself between the people and the Board of Supervisors and by his representations which were sustained by the deputy district attorney, we were unable to bring a grave situation to the attenion of the Board.

The evidence that was to be presented was new evidence obtained after the current case was closed with the Board of Adjustment relative to the revocation of the Kaiser Quarry, which matter is now pending on appeal before the Planning Commission. Public nuisances and the public safety and welfare were items that we were precluded from presenting to the Board of Adjustment with the balance of our case although the Board of Supervisors had told us that all matters that we had before them some two months ago could be brought up when we were directed by them to the Board of Adjustment and the Board of Adjustment heard the case at the direction of the Board of Supervisors.

It is our contention that the Board of Supervisors, upon hearing the evidence we had subsequently prepared, would institute abatement proceedings and other measures to halt the dangerous truck traffic on Pinehollow Road. The deputy district attorney also told the Board that he would recommend against any such proceedings from his knowledge of other cases, however, this observation was made, as is obvious, without the benefit of he or the Board hearing the evidence prepared.

Some of the mothers of children who must take school buses on this road, incensed at the proceedings, overrode all objections and as a result, Supervisors Taylor and Buchanan, in conjunction with a representative of the school department, did look over the bus stop situation in an attempt to improvise some stop-gap measures. This still will not stop these 25-ton rock trucks from hurtling down Pinehollow Road, still an ever present danger to the children, to the public and with the terrific noise that they generate, invade the privacy of every home to the extent that all conversation or even thinking is obliterated.

We believe that the people should have immediate access and redress to and from their elected representatives without being subject to officious interference, red tape, and being run around from one board to another, from the Highway Patrol to the School Department and back to the Board, in one futile, frustrating merry-go-round.

Under The Sun

By Herman Silverman

Bull session about newspapers

Today I'm looking for an excuse. I want to talk about The Sun and its problems. Last week was National Newspaper Week and it would have been more timely. But excuse or not — let's have a bull session.

Several weeks ago in an editorial we asked for suggestions and criticism of The Sun papers. We received some splendid ideas and last week we printed one letter. It pointed up the problem that results from having three separate Suns — Walnut Creek Sun, Lafayette Sun and Orinda Sun.

The particular complaint was that readers of the Walnut Creek Sun in Sun Valley miss some important Lafayette news. Ditto readers of the Lafayette Sun in Sun Valley miss important Walnut Creek news. The same thing happens elsewhere — for example, on Charles Hill between Lafayette and Orinda and between Pleasant Hill and Lafayette.

This is primarily a mechanical problem — moving stories from one paper to another. Our editorial staff is concentrating on improving the situation and we hope to solve it in the not-too-distant future.

Yes, they are different

Many readers are surprised when they learn that The Suns are different in each community. For some reason, most people assume they are the same. But they are not.

We have attempted to tailor a newspaper to each of the communities. Stories, features, pictures in each paper are primarily of interest to its community. Thus, this week the Walnut Creek Sun has 13 pages jam-packed with news of Walnut Creek, Alamo and Pleasant Hill that do not appear in the Lafayette Sun or Orinda Sun. And vice versa. The editorials this week on this page are different in each Sun.

On the other hand, there are nine pages this week that are the same in all The Suns. These contain area-wide news and features. I readily admit that we miss the boat now and then — but we're improving and ask your patience.

There are advantages and disadvantages to our system but I think the final product is much better by editing each paper for each community. It is my theory that a newspaper cannot do a good job covering too wide an area. We are, however, experimenting, changing and improving our methods and we certainly welcome your ideas on the subject.

'Leaking' news reports

Newspaper policy and procedures are not always understood by readers. That's why discussions such as we are having today can be of value. For example, many people do not realize that newspapers frequently report statements, print letters or stories that the papers do not support or agree with. Because we print a letter or statement dose not mean we endorse it. But it is still news.

Recently we have been criticized for another policy, which is standard procedure for newspapers. For example, Organization A may issue a controversial statement attacking Organization B or perhaps an individual — by name or inference.

Our staff is instructed to contact the individual or Organization B and give them the opportunity to answer the original statement. This should be done in the same issue of the paper carrying the original attack. This is not always possible. Sometime the attacked group cannot be reached or is not prepared to answer. Then, we carry the answer the next week.

Criticism aimed at The Sun is that we have "leaked" Organization A's information to Organization B. Remember, this is a newspaper and it is our duty to present both sides of an argument. We must be fair and give the other side an opportunity to answer — at the very same time, if possible. When we fail to do this, we are doing a poor job.

The columns of The Sun are open to anyone in the community. This is your paper and you have a right to be heard.

Thank you — in advance

I'm going to be commercial for a few paragraphs. Sometimes someone gives us a compliment and wants to know how he can help The Sun do a better job. One way is serve as a reporter for us. If you see something newsworthy — an accident, a funny event, a human interest story, please call our news staff and give us the tip. In addition, send us news items — births, social events, neighborhood news, organization news. Our small staff cannot possibly cover all the news in the community. We depend upon you.

Secondly, you can help by mentioning The Sun to our local merchants. If you saw "it" advertised, mention it when you shop. Say you saw it in The Sun. You will be surprised at how pleased will be the merchant and how much it helps us.

Incidentally, the power of advertising is aptly demonstrated in this story. This was related to Wife Eleanor at a meeting the other night. A reader placed a classified ad in The Suns to get a daily ride into Oakland. The only identification was a phone number. And who answered the ad? The next door neighbor!

Please let us know what you like about The Sun — and what you don't like. And we will try to produce a better paper.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

A short time ago I moved to the country as I wanted "peace and quiet." Now I am seriosuly considering moving back to the city for some rest.

I am slowly going mad — I live in the Glenside area of Lafayette and the barking dogs in that area and in the area nearby are driving me out of my mind. How so-called educated grown people can sit idly by in their homes and allow their mutts to yap their heads off night and day is beyond me. If I had a dog I would certainly be more considerate of my neighbors.

Surely a dog has to bark now and then — but there is no excuse for them to bark for hours on end without stopping. I cannot put in writing the thoughts that flash through my mind when I think of what I would like to do to these pests and their owners. Surely there must be other persons beside myself that are enraged over this terrifying nightmare.

Name withheld on request.

Meet the Gillums
who set up housekeeping in San Leandro in 1935

20 YEARS AGO—when Grover and Beatrice Gillum were married, they had just three appliances in their first home: waffle iron, electric iron, toaster.

TODAY—the Gillums and their daughters, Linda and Gale, have 16 appliances, including: automatic washer, vacuum cleaner, gas range, refrigerator, radio, television, sewing machine, infra-red lamp, gas water heater and gas furnace.

Today they buy $14 worth of gas and electricity for $10

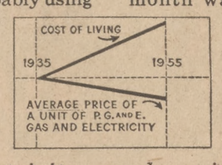

...for the average unit cost is about ⅓ less than it was in 1935

The average California family today uses three times as much gas and electricity as it did twenty years ago.

And, like the Gillums, you're probably using more gas and electricity as you add more appliances and lighting to your home.

As a result, your bill may be higher. But it is far lower than it would have been twenty years ago. For the average cost of a unit of gas and electricity is down about one-third, compared with 1935. Thus, the Gillums' gas and electric bill in a recent month was $10.03. In 1935, the same amount would have cost $14. Your own bill would probably show similar savings.

Can you think of any other prices that are lower today than 20 years ago? No wonder we say ...
